Testimony at Hearing Discloses J. B. Sheridan of St. Louis Heads Preparation of Propaganda.

FIVE BOOKLETS GO TO 88,453 STUDENTS

553 Addresses in Year and 7167 Column Inches in Papers on Utilities Interests Reported.

By PAUL Y. ANDERSON, A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—Five propaganda booklets prepared by paid agents of the public utility companies now are being used as reference works in 690 of the 790 high schools in Missouri. The Federal Trade Commission discovered today in its investigation of the power trust.

The booklets were written under the direction of J. B. Sheridan, St. Louis, a former newspaper man and sporting writer, but now chief publicity director for the combined public utility corporations of Missouri.

According to a statement issued by the publicity bureau itself, the booklets are being studied by 88,453 high school students in the State.

The disclosure of the Power Trust's invasion of the public schools of Missouri came as an unexpected incident in the commission's investigation of the trust practices in Nebraska. In the files of Thorn Brown, chief propaganda agent of the power interests in Nebraska, was found a copy of a letter from Brown to J. B. Sheridan, secretary of the Missouri Committee on Public Utility Information.

Letter Tells of Work. The letter acknowledged receipt of a circular from Sheridan, describing the Missouri committee's work in the schools, and through the newspapers and speakers' bureau.

The circular describing the Missouri committee's activities was never intended to reach the public. It was for the information of the utility companies which were supporting the committee, and was designed to impress on them that the committee had been very effective in disseminating propaganda favorable to the power trusts.

The circular bore the following title: "How the Missouri Committee on Public Utility Information is Helping the Service by Telling the Utilities Story to Missouri."

The officers of the committee were named as follows: Chairman, Percy Redmond, Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.; treasurer, Herman Specker, Union Electric Light and Power Co.; secretary, J. C. B. Sheridan, 1017 Olive street, St. Louis; steering committee, J. C. Hillmeyer, Douglas Williams, and R. D. Lewis.

On the inside of the circular appeared a photograph of a display of five booklets, respectively entitled: "The Telephone," "Electricity," "The Electric Railways," "A Half-Century Miracle," and "Manufacturing Gas." Underneath, in bold type, was the caption: "88,453 Missouri pupils study these utility booklets."

To 690 Out of 790 Schools. Then followed the statement: "The utility educational service for schools, consisting of reference pamphlets on gas, electricity, telephone and electric railways, has been distributed to 690 of the 790 high schools in Missouri, on request of principals and teachers. They serve as reference books on public utilities of the State."

"The 690 high schools using the service have an enrollment of 88,453 students, which is 97 per cent of the total enrollment of 90,831 students listed in the Missouri high school directory."

"The booklet outlines the economics of public utility operation, methods of financing and engineering, and the use of gas, electricity, telephone and electric railways. The committee wants letters from 300 high school teachers highly commending the utility information service."

Tells of Newspaper Stories. The Missouri Bureau of the power trust, like those in other states, was proud of its success in getting its propaganda into the newspapers, as well as the schools. Thus, there appeared in the circular the following:

"Missouri newspapers have used

HOUSE PASSES MUSCLE SHOALS GOVERNMENT OPERATION BILL

Measure, Amended to Eliminate Production of Fertilizer, Goes Back to Senate Which Is Expected to Approve It.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—Without a record vote the House today passed the amended Norris-Morris bill to provide for Government operation and manufacture of nitrates instead of fertilizer at Muscle Shoals, Ala.

The measure was approved by a standing vote of 251 to 165. Chairman Morin of the Military Committee, in charge of the measure, made no effort to obtain a record vote.

The bill goes back to the Senate, but it is understood it is acceptable to Senator Norris and will be passed at this session.

The amendment of the manufacture of nitrates offered by Representative McMillan (Dem., South Carolina), hit directly at the main provision of the measure—the manufacture and sale of fertilizer to farmers. The proposal was approved by a tellers' vote of 141 to 89.

The measure as approved materially differs from the bill as passed by the Senate earlier this session. The Senate is expected to request a conference with the House for adjustment of differences.

The bill proposes the creation of a Federal corporation to operate the Government properties. Surplus power not needed for the work would be sold on the local markets. Under an amendment by Representative La Guardia (Rep.), New York, states and municipalities would have preference in the letting of contracts for surplus power.

Before adopting the Morin plan the House voted down, 151 to 119, the Snell bill for the sale of power and the experimental manufacture of fertilizer at Muscle Shoals.

$1,000,000,000 MERGER OF PUBLIC UTILITIES IS PENDING IN NEW YORK

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 16.—FORMATION of a $1,000,000,000 public utility corporation serving the metropolitan area has approached reality with the announcement that directors have agreed on terms of acquisition of the Brooklyn Edison Co. by the Consolidated Gas Co. of New York. The new corporation will be second only to the American Telephone & Telegraph Corporation as a public utility company.

Provided 70 per cent of the Brooklyn Edison stock is deposited with the National City Bank by June 15, the agreement states, stockholders of the Consolidated Gas company will be asked to ratify the merger. All provisions of the agreement are subject to approval of the New York State Public Service Commission.

One man robs bank of $3500, locks 3 persons in vault.

Pat in Auto Drives With Him To Germantown (Ill.) Depository. The Germantown Bank at Germantown, Ill., 40 miles east of St. Louis, was robbed of $3500 in a holdup at 2:15 p. m. today. One robber entered the bank, looted the vault, then locked two employees and a customer in it and fled. Another man waited for him at the wheel of a blue Dodge sedan outside the bank. The car drove toward St. Louis.

The three persons in the small bank when the robber entered with a drawn pistol were Henry Michael, cashier; Miss Helen Reuker, a clerk; and Edward Koch, a customer. They were ordered to hold up their hands and marched toward the vault. Then the robber scooped up all the money in sight.

The out consisted of currency and gold and a small amount of silver. The automobile bore a Missouri license. The Sheriff's office at Carlyle sent deputies to watch the depot into St. Louis and notified the St. Louis police to guard the bridges.

$185,000,000 A. T. & T. ISSUE

Present Stockholders to Have First Chance to Buy.

BOSTON, May 16.—The American Telephone and Telegraph Co. directors today voted to offer to shareholders $185,000,000 new stock at $100 a share in ratio of one new share for each six held on June 1, 1928.

Payment for the new stock will be spread over eight months, with the first installment due on Aug. 1, the second on Dec. 1 and the third on April 1, 1929. Subscribers will have the option of paying in full on Aug. 1. The money raised by this issue will be used in financing the needs of the associated companies of the Bell system and the long lines of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. in plant and equipment.

FARM BILL GOES TO COOLIDGE

WASHINGTON, May 16.—Final Congressional action on the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill late today, with acceptance by the Senate of the conference report adjusting differences between the Senate and House.

The measure now goes to President Coolidge.

9-FOOT CHANNEL APPROVED

WASHINGTON, May 16.—A proposal for the deepening of the Mississippi River to a nine-foot extreme low water depth in the extreme northern portion of the river, between St. Louis and St. Paul, at a cost of $1,500,000, was approved today by the House Rivers and Harbors Committee.

The project will be included in the bill which the committee is preparing.

RECORD TRADING DAY ON MARKET AS PRICES FALL

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 16.—All trading records on the New York Stock Exchange were broken today in a sensational reaction which cut down, or wiped out, most of the early gains of $5 to $20 a share, and sent several issues crashing $5 to nearly $20 below yesterday's final quotations. The day's turnover was 4,887,400 shares, which contrasts with the previous record of 4,762,400, established March 27.

The ticker was 30 minutes in nearly an hour behind the market the greater part of the day. Brokerage houses were so swamped with work that governors of the exchange voted to suspend trading Saturday for the fifth time this year.

The reaction was based on widespread fears that speculation for the advance was being carried to excess, and that Federal reserve authorities would take further drastic measures to restrict the credit supply in another desperate effort to bring it within bounds.

Directors of the Philadelphia Federal Reserve Bank increased the rediscount rate in that city from 4 to 4 1/2 per cent, after the close of the market. Similar action is generally expected by the New York Federal Reserve Bank tomorrow.

Wright Aeronautical, which had soared $31 a share to a new high record at $245, broke to $219; Curtiss Aeroplane dropped from $192.75, which represented an advance of nearly $24, to $149, both closing near the bottom. Adams Express fell $19 a share, Radio 26, Equitable Office Building $15, National Tea $11, American Bank Note $10, and General Motors $8.50 below yesterday's final quotations. Scores of other industrial stock fell $3 to $5.

The decline in rails was not so large, although Union Pacific, Great Northern Pacific and New York Central closed $3 to $4 a share lower.

RUSH HOLLAND SPENT $10,000 FOR HOOVER IN SOUTH

Former Assistant Attorney General Tells Senators of Money Given to State Leaders.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—Rush L. Holland, patronage dispenser and Assistant Attorney-General under Harry Daugherty, told the Senate Presidential Campaign Funds Investigating Committee today how he had disbursed $10,000 to Gov. Smith's campaign.

$75,000 TO SMITH "IN LOVE AND AFFECTION"

W. H. Todd, Shipbuilder, and W. G. Kenny, Contractor, Explain Contributions for Governor.

By RAYMOND F. BRANDT, A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—Rush L. Holland, patronage dispenser and Assistant Attorney-General under Harry Daugherty, told the Senate Presidential Campaign Funds Investigating Committee today how he had disbursed $10,000 to Gov. Smith's campaign.

In addition to the $10,000 which was obtained from Claudius H. Todd, a shipbuilder, and W. G. Kenny, a contractor, Holland said that he had spent between $1200 of $1500 of his own money for traveling and other expenses. He stated that he did not think he would have been able to do so because his activities were near an end.

The other witnesses before the committee today were William H. Todd, a Republican shipbuilder of New York, who contributed $5000 to Gov. Smith's campaign, and W. G. Kenny, New York construction contractor, who contributed $70,000 to the same fund; James J. Riordan, a former associate of Gov. Smith in the trucking business; Herbert H. Lehmann, a New York investment banker; and Mrs. Henry Moskowitz, one of Smith's unofficial advisers.

At the New York hearing, George R. Van Name, Smith's campaign manager, stated that he made three trips into the South in 1927, which cost him $50,000 of the $70,000 obtained from Kenny. Kenny stated today that he considered the whole $70,000 as a contribution and that he was hoping to make an office contribution to the campaign.

Holland testified that he had made three trips into the South in 1927, which cost him $50,000 of the $70,000 obtained from Kenny. Kenny stated today that he considered the whole $70,000 as a contribution and that he was hoping to make an office contribution to the campaign.

Perry W. Howard, the Negro Republican national committeeman for Mississippi and a special assistant to the Attorney-General, received $4000 of the $10,000. Holland told the committee. Two thousand dollars went for organization work in the State and $2000 was advanced to Howard in weekly installments of $200 to help maintain Howard's organization in Washington, which Holland described as an adjunct of the Republican National Committee.

Another $2000 went to Ben J. Davis, the Negro Republican national committeeman for Georgia, for use in that State. In addition to this amount, Holland gave $2000 to the campaign of the Citta di Milano and a number of people who have been flocking to King's Bay to see the Italia.

Runs Into Fog.

A great friendly shout echoed with my own voice as I gave the order to go. In a few minutes we were far away but the voices of the crowd, which now had melted down to a black smear on the immense snow field, reached our ears.

Those were great moments. We have been sailing steadily since 4 o'clock 500 feet beneath a thick bank of fog which seems to extend for many miles over our heads. So far this fog is the only disturbing element and I am very hopeful.

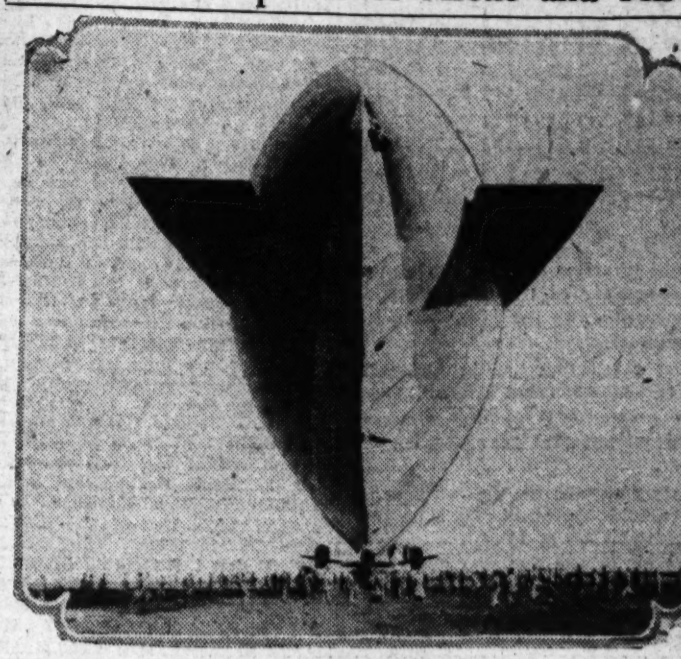

At 6 this morning we were expecting to start at any moment. The night of Sunday night lifted definitely during yesterday. The snow fell ceased at dawn, and by noon the sky had returned to its pure azure. A tepid, luminous sun rapidly melted the snow accumulated on the ship.

I had ordered that the Italia be refueled, and that all necessary material be taken aboard again. The order was given at 2 p. m., but the secret was well kept until this morning, as a sudden change for the worse was still possible.

It was 5 o'clock this morning by the time we gathered at the hangar.

Explorer of Arctic and His Dirigible

GEN. NOBILE ON CRUISE OVER ARCTIC IN DIRIGIBLE SENDS STORY BY RADIO

Italian Explorer Encounters Thick Fog Bank—Strong Headwinds Cause Airship to Pitch—Reports Visibility Fair.

By GEN. UMBERTO NOBILE, Commander of the Dirigible Italia.

FOURTH ARTICLE. ABOARD THE ITALIA. En Route to the North Pole, 5:25 p. m., Tuesday, May 15. (By wireless.)

It has been a smooth and uneventful journey so far. We are heading toward Franz Josef archipelago, retracing our steps of Friday, last. The airship just passed the north cape of Spitzbergen and is now launched on the immense Polar wilderness.

About 4 p. m. we found ourselves suddenly in the depths of a thick fog bank. I decided to descend to a lower level beneath the fog. Visibility is variable, but all things considered, I cannot complain. It might be worse.

A fairly strong headwind is causing the Italia to pitch slightly. Again I must repeat what I wrote after leaving King's Bay last week—we intend and hope to succeed this time, but everything depends on the meteorological conditions, especially the visibility. You cannot fly toward the Pole blindfolded.

Airship Safer in Air Than on Land. It is glorious to speed along high in the wonderful azure of the northernmost sky after the alarms of the last two days when the Italia was nearly crushed in one of the worst snowstorms I can remember. It should be an axiom that an airship always is safer in the air than on land. Our experiences at King's Bay proved this once more.

It was 1 p. m. when the Italia was guided to the middle of the snow field outside the hangar. Everything was ready for an immediate start.

The chaplain of the Citta di Milano, Father Gianfranchi, offered prayers. We all listened, standing at attention, bareheaded. Then the airship was blessed by the priest whose Communion Remains of the Citta di Milano smashed a valiant bottle over the ballast hanging from the prow of the Italia.

Before entering the gondola I embraced my brother, Amado, who is an officer on the Citta di Milano, and shook hands with all my devoted collaborators. A large crowd had gathered in the deep snow of the hangar, and the crew of the Citta di Milano and a number of people who have been flocking to King's Bay to see the Italia.

GEN. NOBILE FAILS TO FIND ANY NEW ARCTIC TERRITORY

Italian Explorer in Second Flight Over Polar Regions Heads Airship for Lenin Land.

By the Associated Press.

ROME, May 16.—The dirigible Italia was headed over the vast unexplored Arctic region between Franz Josef Land and the vaguely defined coast of Lenin Land this morning.

Gen. Umberto Nobile, commander of the expedition, in a radio message to the Stefani News Agency at 8 a. m. Greenwich time (2 a. m. St. Louis time), said the airship was northeast of the Franz Josef archipelago. It was advancing toward the unexplored region between Franz Josef Land and the eastern coast of Lenin Land.

It is the second flight of the Italia into the Polar unknown. Gen. Nobile being forced back the first time by a snowstorm last Friday.

Messages received from the explorer said that up to 2:30 o'clock this morning (Greenwich time) (9:30 p. m. Tuesday, St. Louis time) the expedition had sighted no indication of new land.

After cruising for some hours over the area between Spitzbergen and Franz Josef Land, Gen. Nobile said he decided to turn north. With the visibility improving the flyers were able to see a distance of 30 kilometers (12 miles). They penetrated as far north as latitude 82 and then swung toward Alfred Harmsworth Island. At 2:30 a. m. they came within sight of Franz Josef Island.

Nobile's message follows: "At 2:30 (10:30 p. m. Greenwich time, Tuesday), I decided to turn toward the north, penetrating as deeply as possible into an unexplored region. After reaching the position of latitude 82 north, longitude 38:20 east we turned toward Harmsworth Island."

"At 2:30 (this morning) we were in sight of Franz Josef Land in the neighborhood of Alfred Harmsworth Island."

"We had a moderately contrary wind. The visibility had improved considerably. With an altitude of 150 to 200 meters we were able to see 30 kilometers without finding any indication of new land."

Messages received from the airship indicated that its speed had been cut down somewhat by ice forming on its side, a condition previously experienced by Gen. Nobile when he flew over the North Pole two years ago in the Norge.

In a message sent at 9 p. m. Greenwich time, yesterday (3 p. m. St. Louis time), the explorers had sighted no land. The dirigible was proceeding toward Lenin Land, which was discovered by a Russian expedition in 1915 but never explored.

The message read: "At 21 hours our position is 81:29 north latitude, 35:50 east longitude. For some hours we have been cruising over unexplored areas between Spitzbergen and Franz Josef Land. Flying 150 to 200 meters (altitude) under fog. Wind contrary, of about 30 kilometers velocity, reduced our speed to about 50 kilometers (31 miles). Fog caused much ice to form with noticeable heaviness of dirigible."

"Everything else is all well. No trace yet of land. The ice pack is more compact than at North Cape and it appears most favorable to our progress."

BREMEN FLYERS LAND FOR NIGHT AT INDIANAPOLIS

Because of Threatening Weather, Aviators Postpone Trip to Detroit Until Tomorrow.

By the Associated Press.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 16.—The Junkers monoplane, F-12, carrying the crew of the trans-Atlantic monoplane, Bremen, landed at Schoen Field, Fort Benjamin Harrison, at 2:27 o'clock this afternoon from St. Louis.

It had been planned to refuel here and proceeded to Detroit at once. Schoen Field officials said weather conditions between Indianapolis and Detroit were bad. The flyers decided to remain here overnight and to leave for Detroit at 6:30 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Flyers Leave St. Louis After Stay of 43 Hours. Banqueted, paraded and otherwise feted to the point of exhaustion in a 48-hour visit to St. Louis, the crew of the trans-Atlantic airplane Bremen—Baron von Huenfeldt, Maj. Fitzmaurice and Capt. Koehl—hopped off from Lambert-St. Louis Field in their Junkers monoplane F-12 at 12:10 o'clock this afternoon for Detroit, with a refueling stop on the way at Indianapolis.

About 800 persons cheered the flyers as they took off. They were accompanied by their press representative, R. R. Blythe, and William Kirchbaum of Milwaukee, a nephew of Baron von Huenfeldt.

Leaving Hotel Jefferson at 10:30 o'clock, the flyers were at the field and ready to fly at 11:30, but it took a crew of perspiring mechanics 30 minutes to start the big six-cylinder engine on their metal plane, a sister ship of the famous Bremen.

Koehl Takes Charge. Capt. Koehl took charge of the starting operation, sitting high in the cockpit with his hand on the throttle and shouting in German to the mechanics to tell them that the switch was on or off. An interpreter kept the mechanics posted on what he was saying.

Finally the engine turned over and began to roar. It was run for several minutes to warm up, while Maj. Fitzmaurice pulled on his helmet and Capt. Koehl got into his overalls.

While the mechanics were starting the motor the Baron stood in front of the plane watching the work, and later climbed into the cabin and opened a window so he could lean out and exchange smiles and salutes with the crew.

Takes Air After Short Run. After a few minutes, Capt. Koehl taxied over to the National Guard hangar, swung the ship about and with the throttle wide open, got into the air after a short run. Maj. Fitzmaurice and the Baron waved their handkerchiefs as the ship circled the field once and swung low over the hangars. Soon it disappeared in the haze to the east, flying low.

Before the hoped-for Maj. Fitzmaurice told reporters that he and his comrades had "had a splendid time, better in fact than we have had at any stop on the trip. You made us feel so at home, don't you know?"

STREET CAR WAGES WILL BE LEFT TO ARBITRATION

Present Contract and Scale to Continue Pending Action by Public Service Commission.

By the Associated Press.

ST. LOUIS, May 16.—The Public Service Commission of the city of St. Louis today announced that it had agreed to continue the present contract and scale of wages for street car men until the Public Service Commission should make a new award.

The agreement is expected to avert this strike, which was threatened to begin June 3.

Pending the arbitration the present wage scale and the present contract between company and union are to continue; and the company is to postpone money after June 3 to meet any award which the commission may make, and to pay the men the difference, if any, accruing after that date.

The city, it is agreed, shall be a party to the arbitration. This, while it is not so stated, appears to imply that if the Public Service Commission awards the men a wage increase, and grants the company a higher fare than the present 7 1/2 cents, to meet the increase, the city will accept the ruling.

Directors Must Ratify. The agreement depends on the approval of the Public Service Co. directors, who will meet probably this week, and on the willingness of the Public Service Commission to act as arbitrator. It is believed that both will acquiesce.

Members of the Public Service Commission, seen by a Post-Dispatch reporter at Jefferson City, declined to say whether they would undertake arbitration of the street car wage matter. They said they could not determine the matter until the formal request had been placed before them as a body. The members who were seen, however, indicated that they would not seek to sidestep any responsibility within the scope of their official duty.

Stanley Clark, executive vice president of the company, made the proposal which after discussion and material change, was accepted by the union officials. Clark said the union officials' desire would have been to have the matter. The union officials said they were fully empowered to act, the local union having recently voted, almost unanimously, to authorize them to call a strike at their discretion.

Mayor Miller is to request the Public Service Commission to act as arbitrator. Under the State statutes, as at present interpreted, the commission may, but is not compelled to arbitrate such disputes.

U. S. ARMY PLANES READY FOR HOP TO GREENLY ISLAND

Two Relief Ships Expect to Enter Bremen to New York.

By the Associated Press.

ST. GEORGE, N. F., May 16.—Two United States Army amphibious planes were here tonight ready for a takeoff in the morning for Labrador, where they will join the German plane Bremen to escort it to New York.

The distance from here to the spot on the southern coast of Labrador where the Bremen is waiting is only 225 miles, and it was expected the relief planes would get there before noon tomorrow.

New York, its original destination when it took off from Ireland more than a month ago, by Fred McElroy, Junkers expert, who is a passenger in one of the army planes.

ed with the enterprise in an advisory capacity, but has not yet stated his final decision.

The company expects to use its motored planes with room for passengers and begin operation with 12 machines. The service will not be inaugurated until an extensive system of first grade airports can be developed.

Plane Line for Train Service to Have Headquarters Here.

St. Louis will be the operating headquarters of Transcontinental Air Transport, Harold G. Bixby announced here today. The selection of St. Louis as the focal point for its activities was advanced by the Chamber of Commerce executive as another reason why St. Louis should pass the $2,000,000 airport bond issue proposed in the fall.

The fact that a group including Bixby and Knight was negotiating with the Pennsylvania Railroad for inauguration of combined air-rail service was published exclusively by the Post-Dispatch last March 15.

SHOT IN DEFENSE OF WIFE, SLAYER'S PLEA AT TRIAL

W. B. Cox Asserts H. J. Paul, Whom He Killed in Row Over Dog, Had Struck Mrs. Cox.

SAYS VICTIM MOVED AS IF TO DRAW WEAPON

Prosecutor's Witnesses Deny Both These Allegations and Avere Slain Man Was Not Armed.

The defense of William B. Cox, tobacco factory foreman, charged with the murder of his next door neighbor, Harry J. Paul, last March 7, in a row over a dog, began today, following testimony of eight state witnesses, including the slain man's widow, that the shooting of Paul was not justified.

Cox asserts that Paul attacked Mrs. Cox and made a motion as if to draw a weapon. It is alleged by the defense that an angry dispute between Paul and Mrs. Cox over the dog preceded the tragedy and that Paul struck Mrs. Cox.

State Closes Case.

Presentation of the defense testimony began after the state rested at 4:35 p. m. This morning four police witnesses described the finding of a small pocket knife in Paul's pocket and related how Cox had said he had fired in self-defense. Versie Loy, counsel for Mrs. Cox, asserted in an opening statement it would be shown Cox was "in fear of great bodily harm" when he shot Paul, this being an essential of a self-defense plea.

The prosecution's eye-witnesses, led by Mrs. Nina Paul, widow of the slain man, told of the shooting. They agreed on two important points unanimously; that Paul was unarmed and made no threatening gestures of any kind; and that Mrs. Cox fired from 15 to 18 feet away from Paul when he shot him.

Widow Tells of Killing.

Mrs. Paul related how her dachshund puppy "Fritzie" ran from her yard at 4103 Melroe avenue into the Cox's yard. She said Mrs. Cox tied the dog to its neck in such a way as to lift its forefeet off the ground. Mrs. Paul said her husband came home and went into the Cox back yard to release "Fritzie." She said Mrs. Cox attacked her husband with a rake and then Cox came out and shot him without provocation.

With this version Miss Selma Belman of Alton, who was visiting her aunt, Mrs. Carrie Schmidt, at 4105 McKee avenue agreed. She said she had been attracted to a rear window by the howls of the puppy.

"I saw Paul stooping to untie the puppy," she related. "Cox came out of his house. He had a gun in his hand. I saw him fire at Paul. He was 10 or 15 feet from Paul at the time and as Mrs. Cox I saw no fight between Paul and Mrs. Cox."

The aunt, Mrs. Schmidt, told virtually the same story. She said she saw Mrs. Cox tie up the puppy and heard her say: "I'm going to have some fun out of this."

Police Officer Herbert Cornish, who was riding by in an automobile at the time of the shooting, said he saw Cox with arm uplifted and a gun in his hand and Paul standing some distance away. Cornish said he heard a shot, stopped his car and went into the Cox home. Cox was there and Cornish asked him what he had done with the revolver. The witnesses testified Cox pointed out the revolver, but made no explanation of the shooting.

On cross-examination the defense got Cornish to say that Mrs. Cox had a towel wrapped around her arm. The defense expects to enlarge upon this bit of testimony in an effort to show that Paul injured Mrs. Cox. Fred H. Jacob, 5111 Aubert avenue, was another state witness who supported Mrs. Paul's story. He said Cox and Paul were 15 or 20 feet apart and

INQUIRY INTO TRAIN CRASH IN WHICH 23 PERSONS WERE HURT

Officers of Frisco Lines Met at Springfield, Mo., for Investigation of Collision at Hardy, Ark.

By the Associated Press.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., May 15.—Officers of the Frisco lines met this afternoon at Thayer, Mo., to determine the cause of the head-on collision of passenger trains 103 and 104 near Hardy, Ark., late yesterday in which 23 persons were injured, none dangerously.

Train 103 had orders to go into a siding just north of Hardy, but the crew apparently misunderstood and the flyer crashed into 104, bound from Memphis to Kansas City, which had stopped on the main line along the siding. Engineer John Phillips slowed 103 down to 15 miles an hour. Both engines remained on the rails.

Oren Neaguard, Negro porter of Springfield, who was the most seriously injured, was brought to a hospital here suffering from concussion of the brain. His condition was reported as improved today.

Others injured include: D. G. Smith, Springfield, coal vendor; J. Y. White, Rolla, Mo.; Anna Wheeler, Kansas City; Mrs. S. T. Sellers, Dallas, Tex.; Mrs. Earl Cull, Memphis, Tenn.; spines injured; C. Calloway, Swedeborg, Mo.; Mrs. Mollie Bonner, Cuba, Ok.; A. M. Ream, Springfield; L. S. Dunaway, Little Rock, Ark.; Mrs. Olive Davis, Many Islands, Ark.; Mrs. O. Dally, Cabool, Mo.; J. M. Morton, Springfield.

WOMAN SAYS ABDUCTOR THREW BABY INTO RIVER

Body of Infant Found in River at Shawnee, Ok., Near Spot She Indicated.

By the Associated Press.

SHAWNEE, Ok., May 15.—The body of Betty Jeanne Ford, 22 months old, was found today in the North Canadian River.

Mrs. Lorene Ford, a 20-year-old divorcee, the child's mother, said she and her little daughter had been abducted by four men, and that she had seen what she believed was the child thrown into the river after she had been beaten and ejected from the men's automobile. The mother was found near the stream in a fainting condition.

Douglas Ford, husband of the young woman, was released after he had been held several days for an effort to show the child. Mrs. Ford has been married twice to Ford, divorcing him both times.

WOMAN CHASED BY POLICE FOR SPEEDING WRECKS CAR

With two traffic policemen following in another automobile to arrest her for speeding, a coupe driven by Mrs. Hildred Potts of Belleville, Ill., was thrown out of control by street car tracks on Broadway, at Utah street, and smashed against the curb at 8 o'clock last night. Mrs. Potts was not injured.

The traffic policemen charged she had been speeding 40 miles an hour.

SUIT AGAINST ZION CITY HEAD

Seizing Property of Another Sought.

CHICAGO, May 15.—Several members of the Christian Catholic Apostolic Church in Zion City today filed a suit in Federal Court to restrain Wilbur Glenn Voliva, general overseer of the Zion City community, from "seizure" of miss-appropriating property there. Property at Zion City is valued, according to the suit, at $10,000,000.

Voliva is accused of conspiring with other officials of the religious community to turn over the property for commercial purposes.

WOMAN'S CHARGE CAUSES CHIEF OF POLICE TO QUIT

William A. Shreeve of Kansas City Sends Resignation by Telegraph From Denver.

By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 16.—The resignation by telegraph of William A. Shreeve, Chief of Police here for four years, today was followed by an announcement by Police Commissioners that no investigation was contemplated of published reports of an escapade in a fashionable South Side home.

Shreeve sent his resignation to the Police Commissioners from Denver, yesterday, a few hours after the Kansas City Star published a report of his unannounced appearance in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie R. Choate here, last Friday night, and of his alleged threat to kill Mrs. Choate and herself because she had become reconciled with her husband after a separation of several months.

Accused of Intoxication.

The Star said Shreeve left the house after Mrs. Choate called the District Police Station and reported that the Chief had entered her home when intoxicated and was brandishing a pistol.

Police, who answered the call to the Choate home said Shreeve had left the house when they arrived. They found a pistol and took it to the district station.

Shreeve left for Denver the next morning, following an announcement by his physician that the Chief's health necessitated a rest of at least three weeks.

In his telegraphic resignation, Shreeve said that "apparent exaggeration over recent affairs, which caused embarrassment to my friends, is my chief worry."

Reports Garbled, Says Shreeve.

When asked about the Choate escapade over long-distance telephone, Shreeve said "reports of the affair were garbled." He declined to discuss details of the report and said he planned to remain in Colorado for about two weeks with Mrs. Shreeve.

Lincoln R. Toyne, Chief of Detectives for several years, was appointed Chief of Police to succeed Shreeve. He said he had been instructed by the Police Commission to make an extensive survey of the city with a view to starting a "cleanup" if he found such procedure necessary.

Both Shreeve and Toyne have been in the Police Department since 1910. Shreeve, who first was employed as a clerk, was appointed Chief in April, 1924.

BRICK BUILDING FALLS ON TWO MEN; NEITHER BADLY INJURED

Belleville Hospital Employees Drive Truck Into Ceiling Support and Are Thrown Into Basement.

Joseph Moerchen and Henry Chlich, employees of St. Elizabeth's Hospital at Belleville, escaped with a few bruises yesterday when a one-story brick building at the rear of the hospital collapsed, hurling them down into the basement.

The men had driven a small truck into the building and had run it against a ceiling support, knocking it loose. With the truck and the ceiling they fell into the basement.

A man who registered at the Newstead Hotel, 4298 Olive street, yesterday noon as Victor M. Anderson, Sheboygan, Wis., instructed the clerk: "Call me at 7 o'clock tonight. I'm hard to wake, so come in my room."

The clerk went in the room at 7 o'clock and found the man dead, presumably of poisoning. A bottle from which the label had been removed and a glass were beside the body; also a note which asked that relatives in Sheboygan be notified. This was done, and they are consulting for the body.

USES AIRPLANE TO ANSWER JURY SUMMONS ON TIME

Harvard Student Called as Witness in Auto Accident Spends $100 for Trip.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

BOSTON, May 16.—Stephen van Rensselaer, Harvard student of Flushing, L. I., rates his civic duty so high that when he received a Suffolk County, Mass., grand jury summons yesterday at the Long Island home at 1 a. m. calling for his presence at 9:30 that morning, he made the trip by automobile and airplane, and was here on time.

The total expense Van Rensselaer was put to was well over $100 and all Suffolk County could pay him in reimbursement was $59.18, but he expressed himself well satisfied to have fulfilled his duty.

An automobile in which Van Rensselaer was riding recently knocked down a woman and he was summoned as a witness. The grand jury returned no indictment.

WOMAN HELD FOR KILLING MAN AND BURNING HIS BODY

Mrs. Kathryn White, of EKS, Nev., Arrested in New York on Way to Ireland.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 16.—Mrs. Kathryn White, 32 years old, of Elio, Nev., was arrested this morning in the Cornish Arms, a hotel, and held as a fugitive from justice. She and her husband, Robert, who is still at large, are charged with the murder in Elio, May 6, of Louis La Vell, who was shot to death and his body cremated.

Mrs. White was registered at the hotel under the name of Kennally. Detectives who arrested her "found" in her room a passport made out in the name of White and a steamer ticket for Ireland. She had $500 in cash.

She denied knowledge of the crime, saying she did not know La Vell.

DR. NICHOLAS MURRAY BUTLER ILL WITH ACUTE INDIGESTION

President of Columbia U. Is Taken to Hospital for Several Days of Rest.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 16.—Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University since 1922, was taken to St. Luke's Hospital last night suffering from an attack of acute indigestion. Dr. R. McCastell said he was in no immediate danger, but needed several days of rest. Dr. Butler is 66 years old.

The attack came suddenly last night following a light meal. A number of speaking engagements have been canceled.

T. L. JEFFERSON, 61, TO REWED

Actor Divorced Last Fall, Will Marry Woman, 33.

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, May 16.—Thomas L. Jefferson, 61-year-old actor of the legitimate stage and motion pictures, appeared at the marriage license bureau here yesterday with Miss Daisy Marguerite Roberts, 32, and gave notice of intention to marry.

Jefferson divorced his first wife, Eugenie Paul Jefferson, at Reno, Nev., last September. He charged she was extremely jealous. They were married in 1878 and have three children, all grown.

Jefferson is a son of the late Joseph Jefferson and was last seen in St. Louis in "Lightning."

WOMEN IN RIOT-OVER SEX FILM

Five Thousand Attack Policemen at Theater in England.

BRADFORD, Yorkshire, England, May 16.—Five thousand women waited several hours to get outside of a local motion picture theater to view a sex film called "The Dangers of Ignorance" and those who couldn't get in started a melee which police reinforcements had to check.

When the house was full and it was announced no more could get in, the crowd, already blocking the roadways and holding up traffic, got out of hand, knocked the policemen about, tore their tunics and knocked off their helmets. When the tumult was quelled more than 20 women had to be treated for bruises which were sustained and umbrellas were broken in the conflict.

GUEST FOUND DEAD AT HOTEL

A man who registered at the Newstead Hotel, 4298 Olive street, yesterday noon as Victor M. Anderson, Sheboygan, Wis., instructed the clerk: "Call me at 7 o'clock tonight. I'm hard to wake, so come in my room."

FOKKER AIR LINER REACHES KANSAS CITY

Plane, With Space for 12 Passengers, Flying From New York to Los Angeles.

A three-motored Fokker "air liner," having accommodations for 12 passengers and embodying all the comforts of modern travel, including an electrically equipped kitchenette, departed from Lambert-St. Louis Field at 10:20 o'clock this morning for Kansas City, on the way from New York to Los Angeles to be put in regular passenger and express service between Los Angeles and San Francisco.

The plane arrived at the local field late yesterday afternoon, from Indianapolis, with eight persons aboard, including a woman.

The three motors of the luxurious craft develop 1350 combined horsepower and in recent tests a speed of 155 miles an hour was attained. The craft is one of three similar planes built for Pacific Coast service. The other two planes are being flown to Los Angeles over North and South routes.

Those in the party include David R. Lane, representative of the Western Air Express Co., which operates the Los Angeles-San Francisco route; Hugh Wells, pilot; Henry C. Maier, branch manager of the Bank of Italy; Lieut. R. C. Moffatt, U. S. A., who is accompanied by his wife; a mechanic and two newspapermen.

LEAPS IN FRONT OF SUBWAY TRAIN; TIES UP TRAFFIC

Insurance Broker, Who Had Suffered Intense Pain for 19 Years, Refused to Consult a Doctor.

NEW YORK, May 16.—Rush hour traffic in the West Side Broadway subway, north of 96th street, was tied up for 20 minutes last night after Harry C. Coles, 54 years old, an insurance broker, committed suicide by jumping in front of a 10-car train from the platform of the station at 110th street and Broadway.

Motorman John Zittler told police he saw Coles jump from the platform and place his head across the far rail, but was unable to stop his train in time.

Miss Marshall Coles, 19, told detectives her father had suffered intense pain for 19 years but would not visit a physician, despite the entreaties of his family.

GOV. SMITH TO REFER NYE'S CHARGES AGAINST BLACKMER

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 16.—A letter was made public today in which Gov. Smith told Senator Gerald P. Nye of the special committee investigating the Teapot Dome oil leases that he would refer the Senator's charges against F. M. Blackmer, missing oil witness, to the proper District Attorney as soon as he was informed in what county alleged criminal acts by Blackmer were committed.

Senator Nye recently wrote the Governor that Blackmer had violated the law in New York in connection with the Continental Trading Co., and asked co-operation of the State "legal department" in prosecuting him.

DRIVER GETS 60 DAYS FOR FOURTH OFFENSE

Fred Roberts, Also Fined $200, Admits Drunken Driving Charge.

When Fred Roberts, a truck driver, 1800 Hickory street, appeared in Police Court yesterday, charged with driving when intoxicated, he was recognized by Judge Roscan as a drunken chauffeur whom he had previously advised to paint across his windshield. "Here comes the death car!" At that time Roberts was driving for a tombstone company.

Roberts admitted on the stand that he had been arrested three other times for driving when intoxicated. Despite a plea for clemency by his wife, Mrs. Myrtle Roberts, in behalf of their two small children, Judge Roscan fined Roberts $200 and sentenced him to two months in the Workhouse.

"I not only can't, but wouldn't show any money to your husband," the Court told Mrs. Roberts. "He is a menace to the community. He has no regard whatsoever for the rights of others."

"I deserve plenty," Roberts admitted.

He was arrested Monday at Seventh and Olive streets after a soup-water truck he was driving had run into the rear end of the auto in front of him. The arresting patrolmen said Roberts admitted having had "two bottles of home brew."

Leo E. Biedermann, a professional bondsman, said Roberts failed to appear on a charge of drunken driver on which Biedermann was security about 18 months ago. Another bondsman, Harry Lloyd, asserted he found Roberts in the Police Court holdover at the occasion of his third arrest for drunken driving. Lloyd said he was then searching for Roberts to deliver him to the Court after he had failed to appear on his second charge.

HUSBAND OF WOMAN KILLED IN BOILER EXPLOSION DIES

Russell Albee Succumbs From Burns; Third Victim Expected to Recover.

Russell Albee, proprietor of the Neway Oil Burner Co., 4240 Delmar boulevard, who was scalded Monday when a steam boiler exploded in the place, died of his injuries at St. Luke's Hospital at 5 a. m. today.

His wife died yesterday. They lived in an apartment in rear of the store. An inquest will be held Friday.

Louis Miche of 4227 Kosuth avenue, a mechanic who was at work on the boiler when it exploded, is in serious condition from his burns, but is expected to recover if no complications set in.

BUSINESS LOSS CAUSED H. L. CHRISTIE'S DEATH

Former St. Louis Lawyer Never Recovered From Shock After Deal in 1909.

An almost forgotten tragedy of St. Louis finance was recalled by the death of Harvey L. Christie, in Suffolk, Va., where his funeral will be held tomorrow. Heart disease ended an illness of nearly 18 years, the inception of which was attributed to shock caused by a business deal.

Mr. Christie was 63 years old. Twenty years ago, as a member of the law firm of Bryan & Christie, he was one of the foremost members of the local bar. He was president of the Municipal Voters' League, which prepared preliminary lists of candidates for voters' information, at local elections. He was a leading layman of the Methodist Church, South.

With two associates, Charles L. Gray and M. M. Stephens, Mr. Christie owned the site of the Victoria Building, Eighth and Locust streets. Christie, who was counsel for the Hamilton-Brown Shoe Co., and for its president, the late Alanson D. Brown, engineered a deal late in 1909, by which the site was sold to Warren F. McElroy, Brown's son-in-law, then general superintendent of the Hamilton-Brown Co. The site was valued at $750,000.

McElroy paid chiefly in stock of Hamilton-Brown, 1215 shares at the current valuation of $425 a share. The sellers negotiated a $400,000 loan, putting up their Hamilton-Brown stock as collateral. A few days later the directors of Hamilton-Brown cut the company's dividend by more than one-half. The market value of the stock declined so that Christie and his associates were called upon to furnish more collateral on their loan.

Christie appealed to Brown, who took 200 shares of the shoe company stock at $255, or $100 less than they had paid for it. They accepted in part payment 500 shares of United Railways stock, which declined in value before they could dispose of it. Their immediate loss was $20,000, besides the lowered value of the shoe stock which they continued to hold.

Christie blamed himself for the losses of his associates in the deal and that, rather than his own loss, was considered to be the cause of the nervous breakdown which ensued. The hopes of his family and friends that he would recover and be able to resume professional work were not fulfilled. Mrs. Christie died in 1912. A son, James Lackland Christie, lives in St. Louis.

RUSH L. HOLLAND SPENT $100,000 FOR HOOVER IN SOUTH

expenses were paid by the Republican National Committee.

In answer to several questions by committee members, he stated that he understood that Howard's expenses were mostly for additional office force.

"How many trips did you make to Florida?" Steiwer asked. "Two," was the reply.

"How long did you remain?"

"Ten days each."

"Will it be necessary for you to return?"

"No, Senator."

"Isn't there a contest in Florida?"

"Well, I understand that the delegates selected at a 'rump' convention were uninstructed. The delegates selected at the call of the 'regular' convention were instructed for Secretary Hoover."

"I take it that since both delegations are favorable to Mr. Hoover, that you will take no part in the contest," observed Steiwer.

"Well, I don't want to close the door on any action that I might want to take later," answered the successor of Bascom Slemp and Frank Hitchcock, formerly active in pre-convention Republican campaigns in the South.

"When was the arrangement made with Mr. Hoover whereby you were to take an active part in the South?" Steiwer continued.

"In February."

"At whose instigation were the Southern States assigned to you?" Senator McMaster of South Dakota interposed. "I rather think that I volunteered," Holland replied.

Houston Payments in Checks.

Senator Bratton of New Mexico

wanted to know how Huston made the $100,000 in payments to the witnesses. "I think they were all by check, except $1500, which was in currency," Holland answered.

"Were they his personal checks?"

"Yes, I think they were. I don't recall seeing anything signed underneath to indicate they were from a fund."

"How did you make your payments?"

"All were made in currency except the $2500 that was telegraphed to the Protective Tariff Association in Florida."

"What was the occasion for wiring the money?"

"When I was in Miami I was told that the association needed money and I promised to send it when I returned to Washington. I telegraphed it from here because the cost was so little."

"Did you ever discuss with Perry Howard Secretary Hoover's order abolishing segregation in the Census Bureau?" Senator Barkley of Kentucky asked.

"I wouldn't say I discussed it with him. He brought me a copy of a newspaper with an article in it telling about the order. I understood that he wrote it."

"Was he consulted before the order was issued?" Barkley pursued.

"I don't know about that. I understood that was done by some organization here. I don't know whether Mr. Howard is a member."

Four New York Witnesses Reported About $100,000,000.

The quizzing of the New York witnesses merely emphasized the tremendous hold Gov. Smith has on New York City and State. The four men who testified represented at least $100,000,000 and each declared that he was willing to contribute to the limit to Smith's campaign fund out of affection for their old friend. They are his personal associates.

Todd, the shipbuilder, was a bewildered but likeable witness. He said that he had given $50,000 to Riordan after he had asked several persons whether any money was needed for the Smith campaign.

"Do you expect to make further contributions?" he was asked.

"I have you contributed to Gov. Smith's New York campaign?"

"Always," the witness replied with a touch of pride.

Kenny a Snappy Type.

Kenny was a different type. He snapped out his answers to the committee with the air of a successful business man who couldn't understand why the committee shouldn't realize that he was willing to go the limit for a friend.

"They told me that they needed money, and I gave it to them," he said in answer to several questions concerning the size of his contribution. He said that he had not discussed his contribution with Gov. Smith until the New York hearing disclosed that he was the largest contributor. "There was no necessity for it," he explained with a somewhat pained expression.

Kenny denied that he had had any contractual relations with the State Government and said that he had done only $25,000 with the New York municipal government during the last 11 years. He said that his business was mostly the construction of gas and electric light plants and the installing of electric underground conduit lines.

Kenny's "Tiger Room."

He caused some amusement when he stated that all his payments to Van Name were made in his "tiger room" at the top of his own building.

"Why do you call it the 'tiger room'?" Steiwer asked. "Because I'm a good Tammany tiger," Kenny replied. "And that's a bull when they say it is 300 feet long. The building is only 125 feet long. It's just bull when they try to describe that room."

"Then I take it that is where the Tammany Tiger breathes?"

Steiwer continued with a smile. "That's where my friends foregather. Bill Todd is not a Tammany tiger; he's a Republican and my good friend. That's where I meet him."

In answer to questions, Kenny said that Gov. Smith had used his private car on several occasions, notably on his recent trip to North Carolina.

"Is it true that you will put this car at his disposal if he is nominated at Houston?" Steiwer asked.

"I'd be tickled to death to do so," Kenny declared. He later explained that he had no understanding with Gov. Smith to supply the car for such purpose.

Riordan, president of the County Trust Co. of New York, reported contributions of $30,000. Herbert F. Lehmann, an investment banker, affirmed that, last October he had contributed $10,000 to Smith's campaign fund. He also had sent $2000 to Fred W. Johnson in Wyoming for the use of the Western States Smith-for-President Association.

Riordan, who followed Kenny, said he had contributed $30,000 in April to Gov. Smith's campaign fund. He said he gave Van Name the money in cash at the Hotel Biltmore.

"Was there any reason for giving it in cash?" Steiwer asked. "No, I had it with me and gave it to him."

Riordan said he had gone to the Biltmore expecting to make a contribution and for that reason had the money with him.

"Do you expect to make any more contributions?" "I do, if they need it."

"Any limitation on the amount?"

"No, sir, only my ability to give."

"Do you have any public deposits in your bank?" "Oh, yes, some State funds and some city funds."

Riordan said. "Who designated depositories of State funds?" "The State Comptroller."

Replying to Bratton, Riordan said there were 100 State depositories in New York City. He added that city depositories were designated by the Mayor and a committee of city officials.

Contributions of $12,000.

Herbert H. Lehmann, New York investment broker, who said he was a director in more than half a dozen corporations in and out of New York, and who had contributed $12,000 to the Smith fund, said he expected to give more "after Smith is nominated." This brought a smile from the committee members.

Lehmann said he had managed Smith's gubernatorial campaign in 1926 and that in all he had contributed $20,000 to the Governor's State campaign.

"Was it the general belief that it was best to receive substantial amounts from Gov. Smith's friends?" he was asked. "I think it was the feeling of the Governor's friends."

Lehmann identified Johnson as the organizer of the Smith-for-President movement in the West, which got under way in the spring of 1927.

"It was purely spontaneous," he related.

"In the event of Gov. Smith's election, do you expect to apply for public office?" Senator Barkley asked. "No, sir."

"You are to be congratulated," Barkley said as the crowd laughed.

Recalled to the stand, Kenny said that in the past he had contributed about $20,000 to Smith's campaign for Governor and $25,000 to help wipe out the Democratic deficit after the 1924 campaign.

Now a non-fattening tonic for women who reduce

If you are reducing, realize this: that you cannot consistently rob your body and expect to feel well—or to be well.

If you must reduce, eat intelligently, and, as a safeguard, take a tonic that is not fattening. Be guided by the facts in your choice.

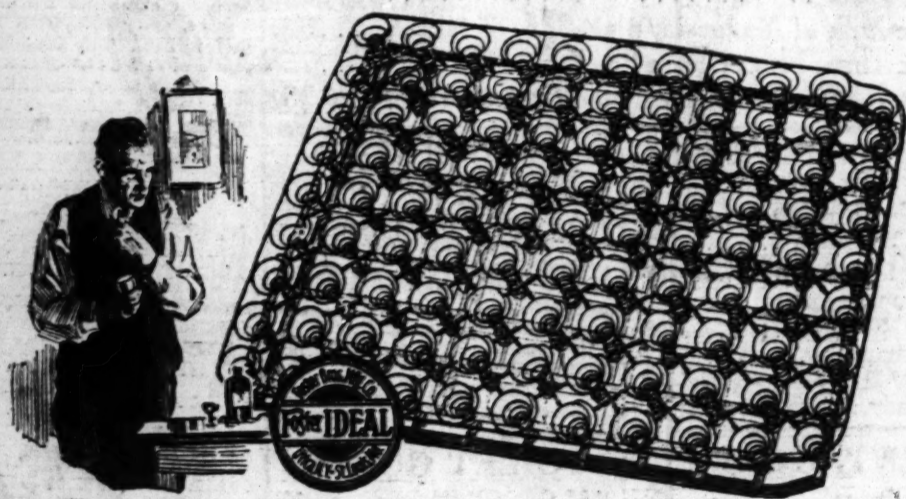

Fellows' Syrup has had a remarkable record for 60 years. Millions know its reputation. More than 110,000 physicians have prescribed it for anaemic, rundown and nervous conditions. Now, by public demand, it is available at all druggists.

It contains lime and iron—so important in tissue building. Also the salts of sodium potassium, and manganese, of known value to the body.

If you lack energy, and become easily tired, take Fellows' Syrup for a month. You will probably feel 50% better at the end of that time.

FELLOWS' SYRUP

The makers of FELLOWS' Syrup also manufacture FELLOWS' Laxative Tablets—safe and gentle, yet effective.

Take your spring
tonic in bed...

FOOD won't substitute for sleep and medicine can't. Nature's best tonic is rest, and the way to take rest at its best is on a FOSTER IDEAL SPRING. Dispense with tea-spoon and vial—get a FOSTER IDEAL SPRING. Try the smooth comfort of its body-fitting spirals. Exchange sag for lift. Try perfect spine support and true nerve relaxation for awhile. You'll find added vim, vitality and increased health in a FOSTER IDEAL SPRING for it is a more efficient tonic than tons of herbs and other concoctions.

See your dealer about a FOSTER IDEAL today. He can easily supply you, for the IDEAL is easy to obtain. It's made right here in St. Louis.

SPACE FOR LINDBERGH TROPHIES ASSURED

Park Commissioner Grants Use of West Wing of Memorial for Display.

Adequate room for the display of the Lindbergh trophies in the Jefferson Memorial Building in Forest Park was assured today as result of permission the Missouri Historical Society has received from Park Commissioner Pape to use both wings of the building for the Lindbergh collection and such other objects as the society sees fit.

Commissioner Pape wrote a letter yesterday to Breckinridge Jones, vice president of the Board of Trustees of the historical society, advising him the society could use the entire building. It is understood, however, the Municipal Opera will continue using the west wing for the training of its chorus the rest of the season, making it available for the Lindbergh trophies about Sept. 1.

Housed in Crowded Space. At present the Lindbergh collection is crowded into the east wing. It is growing steadily and has covered many of the other historical objects on display. Now nearly a year old, it has drawn thousands of people to the memorial building.

The west wing, it is expected, will be ample to house the Lindbergh collection, leaving the east wing free for the other displays.

St. Louis has the assurance of Col. Lindbergh that his collection of trophies will remain here through 1929. With space now available for display of the trophies, the historical society will have a stronger argument for keeping them permanently. On his last visit here, the flyer said he was undecided about the future of the tokens of admiration the world has showered upon him.

To Purchase New Cases. The Spirit of St. Louis Memorial Committee, in a recent meeting, decided to purchase suitable cases for the trophies and is raising funds for that purpose. Names of contributors to the fund will be entered on two honor roll books, one of which will be presented to Col. Lindbergh and the other to the society.

The committee points out particularly fitting occasions for contributions will be the first anniversary of Col. Lindbergh's New York-to-Paris flight, May 20 and 21. The committee is asking churches and other institutions to observe the occasion.

The Municipal Opera has indicated its willingness to find another rehearsal place after this season. The Memorial Building is owned by the city.

MINERS' LEADER WITHDRAWS CHARGE AGAINST RAILROAD

Lewis Had Repeated Statement Termed "Lies" by Pennsylvania's Counsel.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, May 16.—John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, stated before the Senate Coal Committee today that his organization had been "advised" that the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. is standing 60 per cent of any losses that may accrue to a coal company whose mine, near Shady Side, O., is now operating non-union, but the statement was immediately withdrawn.

The withdrawal followed a request by C. B. Heiserman, vice president and general counsel for the railroad, that the committee subpoena Lee Hall, an Ohio union official, to ascertain the source of his information regarding the allegation in event the statement was not withdrawn. He characterized the charge as "criminal libel," saying that stockholders and others had inquired concerning it.

Lewis in turn described the statement as "inconsequential," at first declining to strike it from the record. He explained that it had been made by George W. Lewis, legislative representative of the union, upon information received from Hall. When Heiserman insisted on Hall's appearance, however, upon conferring with some associates concerning the expungement proposal, Lewis expressed a desire "not to be cantankerous" or to delay conclusion of the inquiry and assented to Heiserman's request.

The agreement followed further denials by Heiserman and C. D. Young, general purchasing agent for the Pennsylvania Railroad, that their organization had participated in any conspiracy to break the union or reduce miners' wages as had been charged by John L. Lewis and other witnesses in the investigation.

TO KEEP UP FIGHT ON BRATIANO

By the Associated Press. CLUJ, Transylvania, May 16.—Julio Maniu, the Rumanian peasant leader, arrived here today for a rest after his strenuous but unsuccessful fight to overthrow the Bratiano Government during the recent peasant party conference at Alba Julia.

Speaking before a gathering of his supporters, he said: "The first broadside or offensive has been repulsed. We will now adopt a new strategy to force the resignation of the Liberals. We are at present recuperating our forces for a new drive. We have decided to boycott the Government completely. If they don't make way for us soon, we will take drastic action including active resistance in the non-payment of taxes."

BUILDERS' GROUP CONDEMNS BOMBING OF STRUCTURES

The board of directors of the Certified Builders' Exchange, representing builders, contractors and subcontractors, has adopted a resolution condemning bombing of buildings and calling upon the Building Trades Council, representing union workmen, to state its attitude.

The resolution refers to the arrest last year of Harry J. Hagen, business agent of a lathers' union and delegate to the Building Trades Council, for an attempted bombing of a hotel on which nonunion men worked.

"If the Building Trades Council countenances the attempted bombing," says the resolution, "the members of the Certified Builders' Exchange must find it impossible to co-operate as planned, with the Building Trades Council."

A committee was appointed to call on Harry G. Lindeman and Maurice J. Cassidy, president and secretary of the trades council.

TOMMY BURNS SEEKS DIVORCE IN MEXICO

Former World's Heavyweight Boxing Champion Charges Wife with Incompatibility.

By the Associated Press.

MEXICO CITY, May 16.—A Judge in Cuernavaca today had before him an application for divorce by Tommy Burns, former world heavyweight boxing champion, and his wife, Grace.

Under the guidance of H. E. Grace, American divorce agent of Mexico City, who recently handled Paul Berlenbach's application in the same court, the correspondents and Burns motored to Cuernavaca.

It took but an hour to set the machinery in motion and Grace said that the divorce would be issued in about 25 days. Burns went first to the Civil Registry office, where he filed his marriage certificate, next to the Mayor's office, where he established a "residence" in the state of Morelos, and then to the office of a Judge in the same building where the application was filed.

Burns then left for New York and Grace said that it would be unnecessary for him to come back to Mexico for the decree.

Burns, who became heavyweight boxing champion on the retirement of Jim Jeffries in 1906 and lost the championship to Jack Johnson in Sydney, Australia, in 1908, described himself as a fight manager in New York. The application was filed under what he said was his real name, Noah Brusso, and his nationality was given as Canadian.

He gave the name of his wife, whom he married in England, as Julia V. Burns or Brusso. He stated that he supposed she and their four children were somewhere in England, perhaps in London, but that he was not certain, since they had been separated for six years.

NINTH ANNUAL FLOWER SHOW

WILL BE OPENED SATURDAY

Large Number of Cash Prizes Offered to Small-Lot Gardener by Club.

The ninth annual flower show under the auspices of the Garden Club of St. Louis will be held Saturday and Sunday at the Missouri Botanical (Shaw's) Garden as previously announced, a plan to postpone it until next week on account of bad weather having been discarded.

An appeal was made yesterday to the public to enter backyard plants, window boxes, vegetables and other exhibits at the show, stating that there were many cash prizes and other awards given to encourage the small-lot gardener, and that members of the Garden Club will not compete with the public for the awards.

There are also a number of silver bowls and vases offered as prizes for floral arrangements for tables and rooms, for which the flowers may be purchased, as awards are made on artistry of arrangements and home-grown flowers are not a requisite. Prizes are offered for shadow box floral arrangements, and a full list of classes and awards, with entry blanks, may be obtained at the Missouri Botanical Gardens.

COOLIDGE APPOINTS CIVILIAN MEMBER OF FLOOD BOARD

Carlton W. Sturtevant of New York Nominated to Serve on New Commission.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—Carlton W. Sturtevant of New York was nominated by President Coolidge today to be the civilian member on the new Mississippi River Flood Control Board created under the flood control bill signed yesterday.

Sturtevant will serve with the chief of army engineers, Major General Jadwin, and the president of the Mississippi River Commission.

The planning board has charge of making the final recommendations for the flood control engineering program. Under the new law it is directed to adjust the differences between the flood engineering plans submitted by Gen. Jadwin and the River Commission.

After determining the final engineering project, the board will make its report to the President for approval and then will go out of existence.

DR. STRESEMANN'S CONDITION CAUSES CONCERN IN GERMANY

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, May 16.—Grave fear was held today in official circles and by the family of Dr. Gustav Stresemann, Foreign Minister, over the illness which has confined him to bed. Kidney disorder caused a general decline in his condition.

Just before midnight the three attending physicians were called into consultation. While they issued no formal bulletin, a member of the family said a possible turn for the worse was feared. The effort of the physicians were directed toward maintaining the heart action. Dr. Stresemann's constitution has been undermined by his recent inability to take nourishment.

President von Hindenburg was informed continually of developments in Stresemann's condition. His condition was unchanged this morning. He passed a quiet night.

MAN KILLS WOMAN WITH AX AND INJURES SLEEPING MAN

Survivor, Former Brooklyn Pitcher, Tells of Attack in Birmingham (Ala.) Home.

By the Associated Press.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 16.—A Negro early today hacked Mrs. Daley Steinmetz to death and gravely injured N. J. Priest, a former pitcher of the Brooklyn National League team, as the two lay asleep in the woman's home here. Priest said the Negro killed Mrs. Steinmetz, then attacked him with an ax.

The Negro gained entrance through a rear window. Some money was missing from the woman's pocketbook, and a small amount of cash was taken from Priest's trousers, so police think the motive was robbery.

Mrs. Clara Robertson, a sister of Mrs. Steinmetz, was asleep in an adjoining room. She told police someone attempted to enter her room but that she frightened the intruder away with a threat to shoot.

"A few minutes later," she said, "I heard Priest call for help. When I went into the room I found my sister dead on the floor and Priest staggering about the room."

Two Extraditions Issued.

JEFFERSON CITY, May 16.—Gov. Baker issued requisitions today for Moses H. Bellfield, from Buffalo, N. Y., to St. Louis, on a charge of assault with intent to kill, and for Gilder Varn from New Orleans to St. Louis on a charge of embezzlement.

Crew of the Bremen Voice Appreciation of Welcome and Pay Tribute to Lindbergh

Crowd of 600 Applauds Aviators When They Tell of Planning While in Europe to Visit St. Louis.

The Bremen flyers made their last programmed appearance in St. Louis last night at a banquet at Hotel Chase attended by more than 600 persons, of whom a large proportion were members of the German-American societies of the city.

It was a friendly, informal function—so much so that the debonair Fitzmaurice, worn out from his strenuous day, dozed comfortably for more than five minutes between his two flying comrades and an awakening, litked a cigarette, unabashed.

The sturdy, round-faced Capt. Koehl was the speaking star of the evening. Although he has been speaking English only since the Bremen landed off the coast of Labrador less than a month ago he managed to make himself understood by the audience, which laughed sympathetically as he struggled with his English.

It was obvious, as he stood before the microphones, that he was deeply affected by the warmth of the audience and he launched headlong into his speech, skipping smilingly over barriers of pronunciation and construction.

The flyer's first tribute was to Lindbergh, whom he characterized as the greatest pilot in the world. The sturdy German told his audience that when he and Von Huenefeld flew from Berlin to Baldonair, Ireland, for the Atlantic hop-off they had decided that should they reach America they would make it a point to visit St. Louis in honor of Lindbergh.

"For he is a wonderful man," he said. "He is a wonderful pilot, so great and yet so simple."

To his comrade, Fitzmaurice, Koehl also paid a tribute, commending him for his high spirit and his flying skill and adding, ingenuously, that he and Von Huenefeld were anxious to have the Irishman accompany them to America because he could speak English.

Presently he lapsed into voluble German, repeating his previous remarks in substance and expressing the hope that the flight of the Bremen would be a great step toward cementing friendships between the German and American people.

As is the custom of the flyers, he sat between the Germans with Koehl to his right and the Baron to his left, the order in which they always appear at public functions and in which they are photographed. In speaking programs Koehl always talks first, Fitzmaurice second and the Baron third. The order is invariable.

Fitzmaurice next to talk. Koehl sat down and began to fan himself vigorously as Fitzmaurice, wearing an American Distinguished Flying Cross on the breast of his uniform tunic, arose to speak.

"Although I'm an Irishman," the Major said in a broad English accent, "I'm not given to long chats. I simply want to say for us all that we came over here primarily to repay 'Slim' Lindbergh's visit to us last summer and to bring you a message of good will from our people. I saw 'Slim' when he came to London after his great flight, but I never realized what his feat meant until we had crossed the ocean ourselves."

"His flight was the greatest feat of endurance, skill and confidence the world ever saw or is likely to see. He is the greatest pilot in aviation today and all of us are doing our best to follow in his footsteps. And yet I think one must cross the ocean by airplane one's self to appreciate the meaning of Lindbergh's flight."

Compliments. Companions. "As for our own flight, I was honored in being allowed to go with these splendid fellows. Like them, I had made a usual commercial attempt to cross the ocean and had to turn back because of bad weather. But we tried it again, and here we are."

But when we were up against it, out there in the Atlantic in the night and fog and all that sort of thing and we were wondering if we'd get breakfast the next morning the face of Capt. Koehl was at quarter to 2, right along with us. Apparently 'Quarter to three' meant a resolute expression to the Major. He added that following Koehl's example, he set his own face at quarter after nine and all hands kept their faces to the front.

"And so it is to Koehl that the great credit goes," he went on. "The success of the flight was due a lot more to him than it was to the Baron or to me."

So Americans understand. "We are all quite pleased that America takes trans-Atlantic flights seriously, that beyond their character as stunts it sees in them the scientific side, and understands that the stunt flights must be made before commercial crossings of the ocean can be attempted. Trans-Atlantic flying, after all, would never be a reality if we sat back in bed and thought about it, would it?"

"But, of course, it's ridiculous to speak of aviation in St. Louis. You are the most air-minded people we have met."

In introducing Fitzmaurice, City Counselor Muench had mentioned that the Irishman was fighting against the Germans on the Western Front 10 years ago, and to that Fitzmaurice had referred as he closed his speech.

Flights an Agency for Peace. "It is the fact that we did sling lead at one another," he smiled, whimsically. "We didn't want to be soldiers, you know. I think, though, that no soldier wants war, perhaps because he gets the dirty work to do himself. And that is why every soldier rejoices in the long-distance flights of the last year for he sees that aviation is bringing the peoples of the world to greater understanding and friendship and he hopes that eventually that will mean the end of war."

The monocolic Baron von Huenefeld, like Koehl, began his remarks in English. Present at the function as honor guests were 29 German educators and the Baron explained to his audience that he wanted to show them he could speak English, although he had not tried to study it in school.

"To come to St. Louis and not see Lindbergh," Von Huenefeld said, "is like to go to Rome, and not see the Holy Father." Apparently, however, St. Louis had long been something more than a geographical point for him because he recalled that when he was a boy his father had told him of the World's Fair in 1904. "The Baron said 'nineteen hundred and four' whereas Koehl whispered 'four, four' and the nobleman corrected himself."

"I was very, very happy, when I received the key of your city from your Mayor," he said. "As a little boy I have heard my father speak of St. Louis. I hope the key is also the key of the hearts of myself and my comrades and that we can look in these hearts all your kindness so that they will be always with us."

At greater length Baron von Huenefeld spoke in German, swinging into the characteristic German period sentences which he emphasized by banging his fist on the table. He stressed chiefly the success of the flight of the Bremen and other trans-Atlantic airplanes as harbingers of good will and international understanding and expressed the hope that it might also help in the eventual establishment of an air trade route across the Atlantic. Among the speakers at the banquet.

TRUCK DRIVER ROUTS ROBBER

Latter Thrown Off, Leaves Overcoat and Cap.
George Schulte, 2832 Benton street, was driving his soda water truck at 4418 Manchester avenue yesterday afternoon when a man climbed aboard and poked something in Schulte's ribs. Schulte shouted "Holdup," then grappled with the man and threw him from the truck. The man ran, leaving his overcoat and cap in Schulte's hands. In the overcoat was a second cap.

"We feel that for the Government to go into the manufacture of fertilizer would be unfair competition with established private enterprise," said the resolution.

AUTO CRASH INJURIES FATAL TO SECOND MAN

James Simons Dies at Hospital
—Driver Killed Outright
Sunday.

James Simons, 22 years old, 3622A Lucky street, died at St. Mary's Hospital, East St. Louis, today of fractured skull and other injuries suffered early Sunday when an automobile which he was riding swerved off the highway near Dupu, Ill., crashed against a post and upset.

The driver, Robert Kara, 21, 3424 Morgan street, was killed outright.

Injured Man Found in Wreckage of Stolen Auto.

After a stolen automobile had crashed against a parked car at 2124 Cooper street, police found an injured man under the stolen car. He denied having been in the car, explaining he was walking across the street when caught between the two automobiles.

The injured man, Francis Drease, 2645 Dalton street, was treated at City Hospital for severe lacerations and abrasions. He is a former inmate of the Booneville reformatory.

The stolen car belonged to Antonio Bono, 917 North Ninth street, from whom it was taken Friday, and the license plates found on it had been stolen from another man yesterday. The parked car belonged to Angelo Sala, 1323 South Kingshighway.

Russell Nations, 3 years old, 2516 Newhouse avenue, suffered fractured skull and arm when struck by an automobile in front of that address yesterday afternoon.

Harry Hart, 1408 Biddle street, and Alexander Peper, 223 Cass avenue, suffered skull fracture when struck by automobiles downtown.

'SATURATED' AUTO DRIVER FINED $200 BY DEFAULT

Winfred Eaker Gets a Continuance
But Falls to Show Up for Trial.

"Of course, the officer thought I was drunk, Your Honor. I'm still saturated with liquor even though I've quit drinking. A week ago I swore off after a drunk that lasted for seven weeks. I haven't touched a drop since. I don't blame the officer for thinking I was drunk. Anybody would—you would—I would if I had been the officer."

That was the explanation Winfred Eaker, who said he lived at the Claridge Hotel, gave to Police Judge Beck Monday when he appeared charged with driving when intoxicated and having defective headlights.

Eaker, a salesman, was arrested early Sunday morning at Vandeventer and Greer avenues. Because he said he had a witness he wanted to bring to Court, Judge Beck continued the case one day. On Eaker's failure to return yesterday, he was fined by default $200 and costs for driving when intoxicated and $5 and costs on the headlight charge.

FILES FOR CONGRESSMAN

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, May 15.—William Gray, 5122A Wells avenue, St. Louis, filed today for the Republican nomination for Congressman from the Eleventh (St. Louis) Congressional District, now represented by Congressman John C. Cochran, Democrat, a candidate for re-nomination.

Circuit Judge Claude O. Pearcy of St. Louis filed for the Republican nomination for re-election. Pearcy was appointed Circuit Judge in 1924 by Gov. Hyde, to succeed Charles B. Davis, resigned, and was elected in the following election, in November, 1924, to serve out the remainder of Judge Davis' term.

quiet were Mayor Miller, Associate City Counselor Dolan, Charles Nagel, former Secretary of Commerce and Labor, Stanley Clarke, chairman of the Air Board, Harold M. Birby, chairman of the Board of the Chamber of Commerce, and Dr. Franz Hilker, of the Central Institute of Berlin, head of the party of educators.

Maj. Fitzmaurice flushed, but grinned, when Mayor Miller told of a conversation with him yesterday in which he said "I have been in many cities of the world, but I have never, anywhere, seen as many good-looking women in my life as I have seen here."

The Mayor, and all the other speakers, expressed themselves as pleased that the Bremen flyers had chosen to visit St. Louis and declared that their courageous flight across the Atlantic was an important step in fostering international relations.

Flyers' Book to Be Published in English and German.

The story of the flight of the monoplane Bremen across the Atlantic, as written by Baron von Huenefeldt, Maj. Fitzmaurice and Capt. Koehl, is to be published in both German and English. It has been announced by G. P. Putnam's Sons, New York and London publishers.

The book, priced at $2.50, will be called "The Three Musketeers of the Air: Their Conquest of the Atlantic From East to West." The German version is to be called "Die Drei Luftmusketiere: Die Ge-

41% MORE DUNLOPS bought

"WHAT OF IT?... Even if American motorists did buy 41% more Dunlops during this April than last April... what does that mean to me?"

This would not mean so much if it were not for this: Last year, American motorists bought 42.1% more Dunlops than the year before.

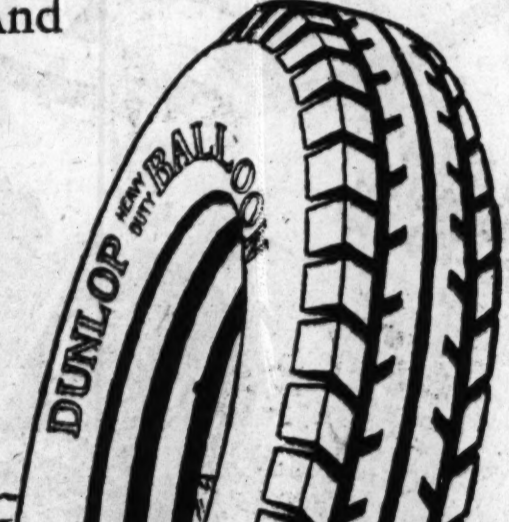

When a 41% gain in public preference is added to a previous 42% gain, there can be but one explanation:

Dunlops are better tires. And why shouldn't they be better?—With 40 years' experience.... $195,000,000 resources.... vast rubber plantations.... and great spinning mills, Dunlop should make the world's best tire.

"More mileage".... "greater safety".... "better looks".... "easier riding".... and "lower cost"—that's what the millions of Dunlop users are telling their friends about Dunlops.

Now there are over 26,000,000 Dunlops in service. They are your guarantee that Dunlops will pay on your car.

CITY DEMOCRATS HOPE TO WIN WITH SMITH

Subcommittee to Nominate Strong Local Ticket to Strengthen Party.

In the belief that Gov. Smith of New York will be the Democratic presidential nominee and that with him at the head of the ticket the Democrats will have a better chance of carrying St. Louis than for many years, the Democratic City Committee has inaugurated organization work with the announced purpose of nominating local candidates who will inspire public confidence and who, if elected, will strengthen the party in the city.

Chairman Mestres of the committee yesterday announced the appointment of a subcommittee of 12 which will recommend to the entire committee the indorsement of a candidate for each office. If none of the announced candidates for an office is considered satisfactory, the subcommittee will seek to induce some other person to file. Particular attention would be given to getting strong candidates for the Legislature, Mestres said.

An effort will be made to bring about the nomination of candidates who will constitute a well-balanced ticket. To attract support from the German voters, several candidates of German origin will be brought out.

The committee consists of four members from each of the three congressional districts in St. Louis. Joseph F. Dickmann of the Tenth District is chairman. The other members are Mrs. Ann Brady, Mrs. M. Kauffman and Clarence Hammond of the Tenth; John F. Byrne, Mrs. Vera Callahan, Miss Nellie Meehan and Philip O'Toole of the Eleventh; and John J. Moroney, Mrs. Lucy K. Gorman, Dewey Godfrey and Mrs. J. Hahn of the Twelfth.

The subcommittee will meet at Democratic city headquarters, Seventeenth and Locust streets, Monday afternoon, to organize and to discuss preliminary arrangements. No report of recommendations will be made until after June 8, the last day for filing declarations of candidacy.

U. S. SCHOOLS PRAISED BY GERMAN EDUCATOR

Says World Will Soon Look to This Country for Leadership.

America will soon lead the world in education, in the opinion of Dr. Franz Hilker, leader of a party of 29 German educators who are completing a two-day survey of the St. Louis school system today.

Last night the educators, who for the last month have been touring the largest cities of this country, studying schools, were guests at the banquet for the Bremen flyers at Hotel Chase. Dr. Hilker spoke.

"There was a time," he said, "when the United States looked to Germany, as did other nations of the world, for educational leadership and the influence of men like Froebel and Pestalozzi was felt throughout the world."

Germany looks to U. S. "Now, however, Germany looks to the United States for new things in education. On our tour of your country we have found new methods, new experiments which will be of greatest value to German education. We have found many things that we should like to take back with us."

"On this trip we have been impressed with the deep respect that Americans have for education and their fine confidence in it. We have seen a connection between practical life and school work and we have been surprised and gratified at the splendid relations between pupils and teachers."

"It is your great educational methods that make it possible for you to transform the people of all nations into Americans."

The party, having touched in St. Louis the farthest west of its tour, will leave tonight for Nashville, Tenn. A luncheon for the educators was arranged at Hotel Coronado today by the Board of Education. Under guidance of representatives of the Board of Education, they are being taken in groups through the various schools of the city, from grade schools to Washington and St. Louis Universities.

WOMAN SEEKS RECEIVERSHIP FOR MISSOURI LAMP FIRM
Also Asks for Injunction to Tie Up Funds: Concern Solvent, Says President.
Suit for a receiver for the Missouri Lamp and Manufacturing Co., 114 Elm street, was filed in Circuit Court today by Mrs. Ida Keller, a stockholder, who alleged certain officers received excessive salaries and through their management business of the company has declined. She further alleged dividends were paid out of the capital instead of from surplus profits, resulting in impairment of the capital to the extent of $19,038.

According to the petition, the company was incorporated 32 years ago and has a capital stock of $100,000, divided into 700 shares, of which Mrs. Keller owns 52. The suit is directed against the company and August Seim, president, as well as other officers, including Lena Seim, Annie Karges, Elizabeth Pate and the executors of the estate of Edward Schaefer, which owns 332 shares of the stock. Mrs. Keller's attorney, George W. Wetman, obtained an order to show cause in the case, returnable before Judge Ossing on May 23. The suit also asks for an injunction to prevent defendants from paying to themselves any money out of the funds of the business.

August Seim said today there was no foundation for a receivership, since the company is solvent, has no debts and is enjoying a substantial business. The ownership of the business, he said, is a family affair and he regards the petition of Mrs. Keller, who is related to his wife, as being due to unwarranted dissatisfaction.

DIVORCES W. R. VOGEL
Mrs. Bernice Vogel Obtains Decree and $1000 Alimony.
Mrs. Bernice Vogel, 19-year-old wife of William R. Vogel, 23-year-old vice president of the Athletic Tea Co. of which his father is president, was granted a divorce by Circuit Judge Hall today and awarded $1000 alimony. Her maiden name, Bernice Reese, was restored. She alleged general indignities.

They were married last August and separated Dec. 9. She now lives at 443 E. Ballinger avenue and he at 5173 Cabanne avenue. Although Vogel's salary from the tea company was $500 a month, he allowed her only $10 a week for household expenses, Mrs. Vogel alleged.

EXPERTS O.K. GREASING SHOES

Oily Substances Add to Wear, U. S. Bureau Finds.
WASHINGTON.—Farmers who grease their shoes to make them last longer are following a sound scientific principle, the Department of Agriculture insists.

Greasing shoes, experts say, not only prolongs their life, but helps to keep the feet dry. They recommend neat's-foot, cod and castor oils, tallow and wool grease, or mixtures of these. Shoes worn on the farm get particularly hard to wear, since they are subjected to mud and water and at times to extreme dryness. All these, it is observed, ruin leather, whereas oil and grease preserve it.

ISO-VIS MOTOR OIL
STANDARD OIL COMPANY (INDIANA)
SERVICE
NOW YOU CAN BUY A CONSTANT VISCOSITY MOTOR OIL—ISO-VIS!
Troubles aren't what they used to be in motoring! Thanks to Iso-Vis. In the old days there was one lubrication trouble that was so common that people thought it had to be. They took it for granted and made the best of it. Of course they said—there is no way to overcome dilution in the crank case. A motor oil that is light enough to give easy starting will thin out and fail to lubricate the engine under working conditions. A motor oil that is heavy enough to give correct lubrication under working conditions will fail to give easy starting. Compromise by buying a medium oil and the results will be a compromise—neither starting nor for working conditions. Satisfactory lubrication seemed impossible! But the engineering staff of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) went to work on it. At last they solved the dilution problem! They found that there is a definite ratio of dilution in the crankcase of every car. By combining a carefully refined diluent with a heavier oil they perfected a constant viscosity motor oil—Iso-Vis! You can buy a motor oil that permits easy starting and gives correct lubrication under working conditions. You can buy a practically constant viscosity motor oil—Iso-Vis. Motorists are enthusiastic. It's the motor oil of today! When you've driven a car lubricated with Iso-Vis you'll understand its popularity. Be sure to try it! At any Standard Oil Service Station and at Licensed Garages—Standard Oil Company (Indiana) St. Louis, Missouri.

Representative Rathbone of Illinois introduced in Congress a bill for Federal Highway.
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 16.—A proposal to survey a route for a highway to connect various places associated with the life of Abraham Lincoln was made yesterday in a bill by Representative Rathbone (Rep., Ill.).
A commission would be created to consider a road connecting Hodgenville, Ky., and Beardstown, Ill., following as nearly as possible the route taken by Lincoln in going from his birthplace to the place where he later made his home.

Those who roam the globe love

San Francisco

Gateway to adventure, capital of vacationland—America's coolest summer city.

San Francisco is a world city, rich in color and personality. It is America's second port and metropolis of the Pacific Coast. So cosmopolitan is its character that its 742,000 population is served by 30 foreign-language newspapers, issued regularly in 13 different tongues, in addition to the great English language dailies.
Here the Orient, Europe, Central and South America and the South Seas meet the vigorous American West, under conditions that create brilliant business opportunity. Come this summer! See this interesting crossroad of international travel, with its unique cafes, harbor life, and bazaars; and revel in a climate of constant delight, where the noonday temperature in summer averages only 65°, and where the air is "nature's own rouge."
Come by steamship via Panama Canal, motor overland, or take advantage of low summer railroad fares. If you can stay but a week, devote several days to San Francisco's Chinatown, Latin Quarter, throbbing commercial life, and superb golf courses. San Francisco is "the happiest-hearted, the gayest, the most carefree city on this continent," writes Irving S. Cobb, adding "Nowhere else in this country is the same area and space of time will you find so many individuals engaged at every chance in getting their fun out-of-doors." Devote at least a day each to Mt. Tamalpais across the Golden Gate (its summit is accessible by rail or motor) and the Muir Woods grove of Big Trees; to the Bay cities with their garden suburbs, 33 golf courses, Spanish Missions and universities; and to Santa Clara Valley's continuous orchards and forested mountains thru which leads the way to Monterey Bay.
If you can stay more than a week, visit the accessible Redwood Empire,—480 miles of forest, coast and mountain scenery; Luther Burbank's Sonoma Valley; the Great Valley of central California; Feather River; Lake Tahoe; Yosemite. Your family will find health and complete change in motoring, hiking, camping in national forests, fishing in sea or alpine streams, golfing, playing tennis, enjoying the beaches or "lazing" under cool redwoods in the scenic mountain retreats.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS REPORTED IMPROVING

Output of Manufacturers for March Greatest in 15 Years, Reserve Board Says.
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 16.—Reviewing business conditions for the first quarter of the year, the Federal Reserve Board announces that industry and trade had regained lost ground and reached about the same volume as a year ago.

The output of manufacturers, the board said, increased rapidly during the quarter culminating in a production in March that exceeded any month during the 15 years' existence of the Federal Reserve System.
"The present high level of manufacturing is due almost entirely to increase in the steel, automobile, food and paper industries, as other or important groups, notably the textile and leather industries, have been less active during recent months," the review continued.

"Steel production, which declined sharply in the last half of 1934 to the lowest level since 1927, has risen even more rapidly since December, and in March the output of steel ingots was only slightly smaller than that for March of last year, which was the largest ever recorded."

Auto Production Increases.
Particular activity has been noted in the automobile trade, the board said, adding that within recent months, the Ford and other companies have increased production with the result that the output of automobiles, which in December was the smallest for any month since 1932, totaled in March about 413,000 cars, the largest number for any month since August, 1934.

"Building activity increased, especially in February, and contracts awarded during the quarter slightly exceeded awards in the corresponding period of last year," the review added. "The volume of mineral production on the other hand, has not changed much for several months and has continued to be considerably smaller than during the early part of last year."

"Distribution of goods through wholesale and retail channels, taking the country as a whole, was slightly larger in the first quarter of this year than in the same quarter of 1934, partly in consequence of larger purchases this year than last by residents of agricultural districts, but in part also because of recent improvement in industrial districts."

Commercial Loans Gain.
"The expansion of industry and trade was accompanied in February, March and April by an increasing demand for bank credit and an increase by more than the usual seasonal amount in commercial loans of member banks in leading cities," the report said.

"In March and April loans made by these banks on the security of stocks and bonds, including loans to brokers, increased rapidly to the highest level on record."

Loans and investments increased by $700,000,000 and were in April nearly $250,000,000 larger than at the beginning of the year and considerably larger than at any previous record. Somewhat less than half of the recent large increase represented a rapid growth in February, March and April in commercial loans.

Shoe Production Smaller.
"On the other hand, production in the textile and leather industries, which in 1934 exceeded that of any other year since 1923, has fallen off somewhat since last autumn. Cotton consumption last year was the largest on record, but in the autumn demand for cotton goods began to decline, orders and shipments fell off, and later production was curtailed. In March sales were slightly larger than shipments and there was a corresponding increase in unfilled orders, but production continued larger than either new orders or shipments, and stocks were further increased."

Tanning of leather was larger in 1934 than in any other year since 1923. Stocks of hides and skins and of finished leather, as well as supplies of cattle for slaughter, have decreased during the past few years, and prices of hides and leather have advanced in recent months to new high levels for the postwar period. Boot and shoe production also increased last year. Since last autumn, however, the output of both leather and shoes has declined relatively to the usual seasonal trend and stocks of some types of leather have increased slightly."

RAIN KEEPS CARDS IDLE; GIANTS HERE TOMORROW

Rain at game time caused cancellation of the Cardinals-Braves contest at Sportsman's Park this afternoon.

It was a bad break for the local team, which won three of the four engagements played, as Grover Alexander was ready to pitch the team into a tie with Cincinnati and Chicago for first place.

The New York Giants are scheduled to open a series here tomorrow.

LIMITING CONTESTS FOR YOUNG STUDENTS TO BE RECOMMENDED

COLUMBIA, Mo., May 16.—Limiting of contests in which young high school students may compete and participation of district athletic meets will be recommended by Dr. Henry S. Curtis, State Director of Hygiene and Physical Education, to the Missouri State High School Athletic Association in its board of control meeting in August.

Freshmen in schools of more than 500 enrollment, the Class A group, would be eliminated from competition in one of Dr. Curtis' proposals, made public here today. No competitor would be allowed to run a race longer than the 220-yard dash unless he was more than 16 years old.

Contests in volleyball, soccer and tennis would be introduced into county high school tournaments for both boys and girls in another recommendation. Fix days would replace district contests for girls.

Dr. Curtis listed the following additional recommendations which he will present for adoption by the association: The furnishing of athletic supplies for the students by the school.

Putting of playgrounds and fields into condition for immediate use.

The securing of adjacent fields for all high schools.

Physical examination for all high school competitors.

That at the time of a contest the game be in charge of the team captain instead of the coach.

That competition in football be eliminated to students between the ages of 16 and 19, inclusive.

That competition in basketball be limited to students between the ages of 15 and 17.

BROWNS' YOUNG INFELDERS FELL DOWN IN BOSTON

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, May 16.—The St. Louis Browns rolled into New York around midnight after losing three straight games to the Red Sox, wondering whether the world champion Yankees could be any tougher than the clan of Carrigan. A year ago the Yankees won 21 out of 32 games from the Browns. The Browns won 16 out of 22 from the Red Sox in 1922. There is scant solace in these mathematics for the Browns. What rebate they have for their wounds received in Boston, from a team that is the start of the season was universally conceded to a certain eighth place, is that the last two games at Fenway Park the pitching of Sam Gray and Johnny Oden was high class and good enough to win in a majority of cases.

Hal Witale is down to pitch the first game of the Yankees series for the Browns tomorrow. This is to be a day of rest for the Browns. The men of Hestley have lost six straight, and six defeats in a row are not calculated to make a ball club very happy and carefree. Young infielders falter. There is no method of explaining the way the Browns lost their stuff when they struck Boston. Both Kress and Brannen, who had been playing bang-up ball, fell down. It was not so much a fall-down in batting, for each did well enough in that department. But both of the youngsters fell down in the dispatch and effectiveness of their infielding. Kress' error yesterday set the stage for the run which Walter Gerber scored to go ahead of the Browns, 2 to 1. Brannen had a lot to do with the third and last and quite superfluous Boston run, because he made an error in covering first.

The Boston reaction on Kress was not kind. But the young man was not altogether kindly. One writer said that Kress had attained a big league idea and thought too well of himself. This expert added that it had all the looks of a young fellow being spoiled by too much favorable publicity before he really had deserved such publicity and before he had hardened to the point where he could take those things philosophically.

MANDELL'S ODDS CUT TO 6-5 FOR M'LARNIN BOUT

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, May 16.—A rush of West Coast support sending the odds down to 6 to 5 on the champion, indicated today that Jimmy McLarnin, Los Angeles slugger, would be close to an even choice when he seeks to wrest the lightweight crown from Sammy Mandell at the Polo Grounds tomorrow night.

Until the McLarnin money began pouring in Mandell had ruled a 7 to 5 favorite. The McLarnin backers were asking 2 1/2 to 1 that the coast star knocks out the champion. A bet of $1000 at these odds was reported by one Broadway firm.

While Mandell was confining his activities to some road work and enough exercise to keep his muscles limber at his training camp in Orangeburg, N. Y., the challenger unexpectedly put on the gloves and boxed four fast rounds with Ritchie Randolph, a sparring partner at Pompton Lakes, N. J. Both plan to come to New York tomorrow in time for weighing-in in the afternoon.

Basing his estimate on the advance ticket sale, Tex Rickard said more than 60,000 persons would see the fight of 15 rounds or less—the first lightweight titanic battle New York has seen since 1923 when Benny Leonard successfully defended his title against a challenger.

Eight radio stations will broadcast the bout, which is scheduled to start about 9:45 p. m., eastern daylight time. These stations will participate in the broadcast: WJZ, New York; WBZ, Springfield, Mass.; WZZA, Boston; WHAM, Rochester, N. Y.; WJR, Detroit; KTW, Chicago; KWK, St. Louis; and WREN, Lawrence, Kan.

McLarnin will try to become the seventeenth lightweight champion of the world.

The titleholders follow: Abe Hickman, Dec. 23, 1888 to 1870. (Retired.) Billy Edwards, 1870 to Sept. 4, 1912. Arthur Chambers, Sept. 4, 1870 to Aug. 11, 1884. (Retired.) Jack Dempsey, Aug. 11, 1884 to May 11, 1885. (Retired.) Jack McAuliffe, May 11, 1885 to March 15, 1892. (Retired.) George Lavigne, March 15, 1892 to July 3, 1899. Frank Erne, July 3, 1899 to May 12, 1902. Joe Gans, May 12, 1902 to July 4, 1908. Battling Nelson, July 4, 1908 to Feb. 22, 1910. Ad Wolgast, Feb. 22, 1910 to Nov. 28, 1912. Willie Ritchie, Nov. 28, 1912 to July 7, 1914. Freddie Welsh, July 7, 1914 to May 22, 1917. Benny Leonard, May 22, 1917.

SISLER NOT TO BE TRADED OR RELEASED DESPITE WAIVERS—GRIFF

MOVE MERELY TAKEN TO FIND WHAT CLUBS ARE AFTER PLAYERS

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 15.—Although waivers have been asked on George Sisler, utility first baseman of the Senators, indications are that he will draw his pay check from the Washington club for some time to come.

No American League club claimed Sisler at the waiver price of $7500 and Clark Griffith, president of the Senators, said last night that the player would not be traded or released.

Griffith explained that waivers are often asked on players with a view to learning what clubs are in the market for talent. He also said that the Chicago American League club had made him an offer for Sisler and "Muddy" Ruel, catcher, but that he had not considered this proposal seriously.

Sisler was bought outright by Washington from the St. Louis Browns, the club with which Sisler began his big league career in 1915, at the end of the last season. He had become one of the game's leading hitters and base runners almost from the beginning of his career, in 1922 being voted the most valuable player in the American League. He lost one season after 1922 because of eye trouble and later managed the Browns.

It was expected that Sisler would replace Joe Judge as regular first baseman for the Washington team this year, but Judge started on the opening day and since has been taken from the lineup but once, and then only for a portion of a game. Sisler hit well during the training season, but observers said that he had lost much of his speed.

Along with Sisler, waivers were asked and granted on Foster Gansel, outfielder, obtained from the Birmingham club of the Southern Association. He will probably be returned to the Southern Association.

Fairmount Club Pays $92,500 to State of Illinois

By the Associated Press.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 16.—A $92,500, the largest Illinois has ever received from any turf association, has been paid into the State treasury by the Fairmount Jockey Club.

The sum represents the license fee paid in advance for the right to race at Fairmount for 37 days, at $2500 per day. In addition, the Fairmount club will pay 20 cents for each paid admission ticket.

SANDY HERD, the famous Scotch professional, was once playing a round upon a course which he had never seen before. Up to the eighteenth hole Sandy had been able to get along fairly well without asking advice of his caddy. But as he stood on the last tee he could not make up his mind what club he needed to reach the green, and finally he turned to his caddy.

"A full shot with your mashie," the caddy told him, and Sandy, a powerful mashie player, pitched not only over the green, but over the clubhouse as well, leaving himself stymied by the edifice.

I suppose Sandy must have thought then, as others often have, that clubhouse rough necessary, are often rather obtrusive on a golf course.

I remember watching the match between Gardiner White and Oswald Kirby at Merion in the 1918 championship. As even playing the last hole Kirby hooked his second shot, and the ball, striking the roadway, bounded across the practice green, and came to rest in the vestibule entrance to the clubhouse, behind a huge flower pot. It was not out of bounds and the unplayable lie rule of today was not in effect, so there was nothing to do but pick it up and concede the hole and the match.

Sources of Trouble.

SHRUBBERY and roadways around a clubhouse can cause worlds of trouble, for they create situations for which no amount of skill can furnish a solution. I think there would be nothing on the golf course which will make it impossible to hit the ball. Limited ground sometimes prevents the perfect accomplishment of this ideal.

In such cases the boundaries must be so fixed as to exclude the unfair obstructions. Certainly the second floor balcony of a clubhouse should be out of bounds. It is assuredly no part of the playing field. Yet in an exhibition match which I played at Holyoke, Mass., many years ago, I had to play a shot from just such a place. With the assistance of the railing and a Ford radiator cap I managed to get my ball back to earth, but

WIGGINS GLAD TO GET EXTRA DAY FOR WORK

By Dent McKimming.
When rain caused the postponement of the Edward Walker Legion Post boxing show at Battery A from last night to tomorrow night, Chuck Wiggins and his manager, Ray Alvis, heaved a sigh of relief. Wiggins wanted an opportunity to get in a little better shape for his meeting with Jack DeMave. In spite of the fact that Chuck weighed 192 before the commission yesterday afternoon, he expressed a desire to take off a couple of pounds. DeMave weighed 191.

Wiggins and DeMave present a strange contrast in personalities. Chuck, a veteran of 14 years of varied ring experience, is the "Fock's Bad Boy" of Kistiana. He shows an utter disregard for training rules, eats and drinks whatever and whenever he likes—if he can get it. In the ring he fouls his opponent at every turn, using winds subversive and, sometimes, his knee.

Does Not Drink or Smoke.
DeMave, a blond youngster of 24, is proud of the fact that he has never been disqualified in 64 fights. He is also proud of the fact that he has had far more bouts than most of the so-called title contenders, and almost as many as Gene Tunney, the champion. He would rather go hungry than run danger of injuring his constitution by unwise eating. He doesn't drink and he doesn't smoke, not because he has any objection to the practices, but because he thinks they might interfere with his plan to become a great fighter.

He is endowed with a most unusual physique and he knows it. "When bathing at the beaches," "frangiers have asked me how I attained such development," confided DeMave yesterday. "I tell them I just try to take good care of myself and engage in some form of training every day."

"Some fighters grow fat and heavy after leaving the ring," he added. But I won't, I'm proud of the fact that I am well built, and I'm going to keep that way as long as I can."

DeMave's record shows that in his third year of professional boxing, 1925, he was tossed into the ring with Jack Sharkey, Bob Gorman, Maxie Rosenbloom, Bob Peck, Billy Montgomery, Eddie Huffman, Ray Newman and others of far greater experience and greater size.

"I had no objection, then, but I have now," said Jack. "Now, after four years of experience, I realize that it was a terrible mistake to take on those fellows when I weighed only 172 pounds and scarcely knew how to hold up my hands. I never fought as an amateur. I just went into the gymnasium, made some people believe I could fight and they put me on as a professional. Had I been brought along slowly I might be the champion now."

Billy McCarny, who is managing DeMave, says that he believes the boy was badly matched in more than three-fourths of his bouts. That was before McCarny and Joe Jacobs obtained his contract. Yet, he never lost on a foul and never was disqualified. He took what the other fellow gave and kept trying to win. He has a broken nose and a cauliflower ear to remind him of the fact that he has had a lot of tough battles.

Promoter Gene Straus announced this morning that the boxing commission had given permission for the management to announce the progress of the McLarnin-Mandell bout in New York from the ring. The returns will be received by telephone and relayed to the fans starting at 3 o'clock. There will also be musical entertainment from 8 o'clock until the show starts at 8:30 o'clock.

Girl, 13, Ties For Medal Honors In Golf Tourney

By the Associated Press.
FORT SMITH, Ark., May 16.—A 13-YEAR-OLD girl, frail and wearing socks, yesterday shot a 90 for a tie in medal honors in the opening round of the Arkansas Women's Golf tournament.

For two years the small star, Miss Ariel Vilas of Hot Springs, has been turning in brilliant scores, going well into the match rounds in the 1927 tournament. Her drives are rarely short of 200 yards and often longer. Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Vilas, the player's parents, are considered among the best golfers in the State.

OKLAHOMA A. & M. DEFEATS BEARS TWICE, 7-3, 8-7

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
STILLWATER, Okla., May 15.—Washington University's baseball team went down to defeat twice before the Oklahoma Aggies in a Missouri Valley double-header here yesterday. The scores were 7-3 and 8-7, the second game going 10 innings. The tilts marked the end of the season for the Aggies who finished with nine victories out of 12 contests.

Wiggins and Beckman each allowed six hits in the first game but five errors by his mates contributed to the latter's downfall. Elchler and Heist pitched the final contest for Washington against Tompkins and Robinson of the Aggies. The Bears took an early lead which they held until the ninth inning when the Aggies tied the score by counting five runs. The Aggies scored the winning run in the tenth on two hits.

UHLE SET FOR GOOD SEASON, WRITES RUTH

By Babe Ruth.
(Copyright, 1928.)
NEW YORK, May 16.—The past week has given us a real look at the Western clubs in our league and it looks as though the Cleveland Indians were the only ones who are really dangerous. Cleveland has a great pitching staff. I think it's the best in the American League and I doubt if there is better in the National League. As long as a club gets good pitching that club is dangerous—and Cleveland is apt to be dangerous all year long.

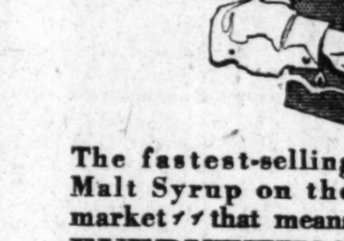

George Uhle pitched a shutout against us the other day — and showed us plenty. George, when he is right, is just about the best right hander in the league. Believe me, he looks to be right this season. The big thing about the Cleveland club, however, isn't the pitching as I see it. The club this year is under a new ownership, one that's willing to keep the boys contented and happy. They pay their players what they earn, treat them as though they were real fellows and do everything to keep them satisfied.

That pays dividends. The reason the Yankees are up there battling every year is because we've got a great owner and a great manager. We're not dissatisfied. We're not bickering. The same goes for Cleveland.

COHEN GIVES YOUTH OF CHICAGO SOME BASEBALL ADVICE

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, May 16.—Andy Cohen, spectacular young second baseman of the New York Giants, has carved a niche for himself in the hearts of Chicago youth. During the Chicago-New York series more than 3000 boys crowded and fought their way into a hall to hear Hornsby's successor give advice on how to break into professional baseball. Most of the boys were members of teams entered in the American Legion Junior Baseball League.

Andy's advice was to subordinate everything else to baseball if one wants to make that his career. "Think baseball," talk baseball, pay no attention to anything else," was the advice of the newest "find."

METHODISTS VOTE FOR LOCAL AUTONOMY

Resolution, Yet to Be Approved By Conference, Favors New Plan of Naming Bishops.

By the Associated Press.
KANSAS CITY, May 16.—Larger local autonomy in the foreign field of the Methodist Episcopal Church was approved here today by the quadrennial general conference of the church when it adopted almost unanimously a resolution recommending the granting of power to central conferences to elect their own bishops.

The action followed five hours in which the whole future of Methodism was discussed.

The adoption of the resolution was heralded as the most forward step ever taken by the church in world-wide mission problems. Ratification by annual and lay electoral conferences by a two-thirds vote is necessary for final adoption.

The adoption of the resolution came with a dramatic suddenness that brought the 884 delegates to their feet singing "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name."

Central, or regional, conferences long have petitioned for local regulation, including the power to choose their own bishops.

The move was declared necessary in order to abolish sectionalism in Methodism and make it a world-wide church.

Chief opposition to the move was voiced by some United States delegates who saw in it the machinery that might eventually segregate Negroes in the United States, preliminary to the long-sought organic union with the Methodist Episcopal Church South.

This was ridiculed by proponents of the measure. Negroes have full equality in the Methodist Episcopal Church, which is strongest in the North.

Revival of teachings of the Apostles creed, and the 52 sermons of John Wesley was commended yesterday in a report brought out from the committee on State of the Church with only one dissenting vote.

The fundamentalist resolution was satisfactory in all respects, the Rev. Harold Paul Sloan of Hadonfield, N. J., fundamentalist standard bearer, declared.

The committee called on bishops, editors, teachers and preachers to observe "diligently these standards of doctrine and practice" to the end that the church shall "be vitalized and invigorated through faith."

Continuance of life tenure for bishops was recommended in a report by the Episcopacy Committee.

Two Children Burned to Death.
CHICAGO, May 16.—Two Negro children, 2 and 3 years old, respectively, were burned to death last night in a fire which threatened a large section of the Village of Argo, a suburb. The fire originated in a building in which the children were sleeping. Three frame buildings occupied by several families were destroyed.

MISSOURI G. O. P. FEARS MELLON HAS CAUSED ITS DEFEAT

Leaders View Indorsement of Hoover as Making Impossible Satisfactory Candidate for Senate.

EXPECT SMITH WILL BE STRONG IN STATE

Possible Entries Delay Getting in Race, and Leaders Think Oliver J. Page May Be Chosen.

By CURTIS A. BETTS.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon was not thinking at all about local Republican politics in Missouri when he uttered complimentary words about Secretary of Commerce Hoover recently, but the effect in Missouri has been to upset again the senatorial situation. It is not unlikely that Mellon has made it impossible for the regular organization to get into the race.

Unless there is a change in the present situation, the nomination will go by default to Oliver J. Page of Springfield, floor leader of the Missouri House of Representatives. Page has virtually no support from organization Republicans. Some opposition is almost certain to appear, but whether a candidate in whom the organization will be interested will file is doubtful.

Even though Mellon was far short of a pledge of support to Hoover for the presidential nomination, Missouri Republicans see in his statement an indorsement of Hoover. They believe Mellon will control the nomination and if he is for Hoover, that Hoover will be nominated. They believe Gov. Smith will be the Democratic nominee and that he will be strong and Hoover weak in Missouri. In other words, they believe Hoover would lose in Missouri and that he would carry the State Republican ticket to defeat with him.

There are private meetings. Naturally, Republican leaders do not say those things publicly, but they say them in private conferences and they appear to be quite generally agreed that that is the situation. Whether or not their views reflect accurately the prevailing Republican sentiment, the effort to get an outstanding Republican candidate for Senator is being blocked by their opinions.

Possible candidates look on the situation as one calling for sacrifice, and so far none has come forward to offer himself. A candidate must file on or before June 8, which will be the critical day in advance of the Republican national convention, when the presidential nomination will be made.

It generally is conceded that Smith will be a weak candidate in rural sections of Missouri, but that also is where Hoover's weakness lies. In the cities Smith will be strong, and it now appears that in the cities Hoover cannot be counted upon to have any great personal strength.

While politicians discussing the Hoover situation mention among the chief elements of his weakness the fact that he sat in the Cabinet with Daugherty and Denby, and that there have been drawn to his support many of the handy men of the Harding administration, including Rush Holland, former Assistant Attorney-General, they generally credit Senator Reed with being responsible for Hoover's supposed weakness in Missouri.

Reed has assailed Hoover. In several campaigns Reed in every speech charged that Hoover alone was responsible for the farmers receiving $2.20 instead of 15 or 16 a bushel for wheat during the war. He educated Missouri farmers in the belief that if it had not been for Hoover their earnings during the war would have been sufficient to tide them over the hard times they encountered after the war. And Reed made those speeches at a time when he was an idol of Republicans.

Recently leading Republicans privately have expressed the opinion that Smith, as against any other candidate, would carry St. Louis by a large majority than Reed carried it in 1922 or Hawes in 1926, and that means by approximately $6,000.

Because of the religious question entering Smith's candidacy, the Republicans believe that with any other candidate than Hoover they could nearly offset in the country Smith's popularity in the city, but they see no chance of doing it with Hoover. They believe there will be many thousands of rural Democrats who will remain away from the polls if Smith is the nominee. They also believe many thousands of Republicans in rural sections would vote for Smith in preference to Hoover, although they think no other Republican

SMITH CLAIMS WITHIN 131, HOOPER WITHIN 78, OF NOMINATING MAJORITY

WASHINGTON, May 16.—Gov. SMITH'S total of instructed, pledged and claimed delegates to the Houston convention today was 693 1/2 as a result of primaries and conventions in three states yesterday. A total of 734 delegates, or two-thirds of the 1100 in the convention, is necessary to nominate. At least 79 1/2 of the Smith block are disputed by his opponents. Secretary Hoover's delegate total had grown to 467, of which 184 are contested. A total of 545, or a majority of the 1089 sent to the Republican convention, is necessary to nominate.

RECEIVER FOR ARKANSAS LEVEE DISTRICT SOUGHT

Franklin-American Trust Co. of St. Louis Files Suit on Bonds.

By the Associated Press.
LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 16.—A receiver for the Farellylake Levee District of Jefferson and Arkansas counties yesterday was sought by the Franklin-American Trust Co. of St. Louis, which as trustee filed suit in the United States District Court here for $1,611,600, said to be due to bondholders. The following were named as defendants: H. E. Trulock, chairman; J. W. Bunch, E. C. Chappelle, H. A. Strode, Henry Poil and J. B. Quinn, secretary, who compose the board of commissioners of the Farellylake Levee District; W. C. Woodson, collector of Arkansas County; and Garland Brewster, collector for Jefferson County.

Failure of the district to meet its obligation on five bond issues since 1915 was reported in the complaint.

PANAMA-TO-DAYTON FLIGHT

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

DAYTON, O., May 16.—The United States Air Service officers at the Fairfield Air Depot and at Wright Field, today announced a record flight from Havana to Dayton. It was completed during the night. The elapsed time was 31 hours for 1,590 miles, the flight having started Saturday morning at France Field.

Two airplanes participated. They were piloted by Lieuts. James E. Parker and Robert Douglas. They will go to Washington to submit a detailed report to the chief of the air service.

The air service is seeking the shortest possible air route to Panama and it is expected that other flights will be made. The two pilots covered 1,200 miles yesterday, making one stop at St. Louis for fuel. The average speed was in excess of 100 miles an hour for the entire distance.

candidate would lose Republican votes in the country.

One of the more prominent Republican leaders of St. Louis quoted was recently to the effect that he had attended a conference with approximately 75 St. Louisans, nearly all of German birth or descent, and nearly all Republicans, and that with one exception every man in the conference said it was his intention to vote for Smith.

In view of this general opinion, whether or not it is justified by the facts, it is not surprising that there is no scramble to get on the Republican Senatorial ticket. Until Mellon's remarks about Hoover there were some indications that James A. Finch of Cape Girardeau would reconsider his decision not to be a candidate for the Senate and would announce. He was virtually certain of the entire organization support and there was no reason to doubt that he would be back on the fence. He may get into the race on the hope that something will turn up to throw Mellon's support to a candidate other than Hoover, but if he files it will be with that prayerful hope.

Barrett a Possibility.

Former Attorney-General Barrett is a possibility, and former State Senator David M. Proctor of Kansas City, an unsuccessful candidate for the Senate in 1926, was in St. Louis yesterday sounding out sentiment of St. Louis leaders for strength, but neither can hope for much support in St. Louis. Proctor ran as a dry in 1926 and is still dry. Neither Barrett nor Finch would be satisfactory to the St. Louis organization more than either of the others.

There are some indications that the St. Louis leadership powers are getting out a candidate against Page. Their whole interest is in the candidacy of Henry S. Caulfield for Governor, and according to some reports, they figure it would be a good political maneuver to give some show of support to Page, who resides in Springfield, the home of Lieutenant-Governor Phil A. Bennett, generally considered the leading contender in the field of candidates against Caulfield. To support Page, some of them believe, would attract greater rural support to Caulfield at the expense of Bennett.

HOOPER VICTOR OVER LOWDEN IN NEW JERSEY VOTE

GOV. SMITH HAD NO OPPOSITION

Senator Edwards Renominated by Democrats—
New York Executive Wins
Montana Delegation.

By the Associated Press.
NEWARK, N. J., May 16.—Herbert Hoover and Gov. Smith of New York won New Jersey's delegates to the National political conventions in yesterday's primary, Smith by the mere formality of an election and Hoover by defeating Lowden delegates in three districts.

Six of the 31 Republican delegates are pledged "Coolidge first choice, Hoover second," the others are out-and-out for Hoover. Hoover alone was entered in the presidential preference vote.

Only the name of Hoover was entered in the New Jersey preferential vote, but the outcome was not binding upon the Republican delegation.

Gov. Smith gained 32 delegates and 23 votes as New Jersey Democrats will have a half vote for each of eight delegates-at-large and a full vote for each of 24 district delegates. The Democrats had only two contests and these were personal fights.

United States Senator Edward L. Edwards, dry Democrat, was renominated without opposition.

Hamilton F. Kean, former Republican national committeeman, who for several hours had been in the lead in the contest for the party's nomination for United States Senator, fell behind today as additional returns were received. At one time he had a lead of 10,000 votes over his nearest opponent, former Gov. Edward C. Stokes, but this was wiped out by returns from 91 districts in Jersey City and Stokes went into the lead by a narrow margin. Later Kean went back into the lead.

Dill Nominated for Governor.
The Democrats named William L. Dill, State Motor Vehicle Commissioner, as their gubernatorial candidate without a contest.

The nomination of both Republican candidates for United States Senator and Governor was attended by charges that Democrats in Jersey City and the territory of Mayor Frank Hague had voted in the Republican primaries for candidates expected to favor the Democratic organization.

Morgan L. Larson, State Senator, who carried the Hague territory, won the Republican gubernatorial nomination. His closest opponent was Robert Carey of Jersey City, who had based his campaign on attacks upon the Hague machine.

Vote Fraud Charged.

A statement issued by Carey alleged that "Hague underlings, including police captains and ward leaders," had gone from house to house delivering the order of their chief.

In calling upon the Attorney-General to impound the Hudson County ballot boxes and registry books, Carey asserted "more vicious crime has ever been attempted against the purity of the ballot box in this State. Probably 30,000 votes had been cast fraudulently."

The Sole Daves Candidate.

George E. Bates, a Negro, who contested the Republican Hoover slate for delegate-at-large, was overwhelmingly defeated.

Montana's Eight Delegates For Smith; Walsh Second Choice.

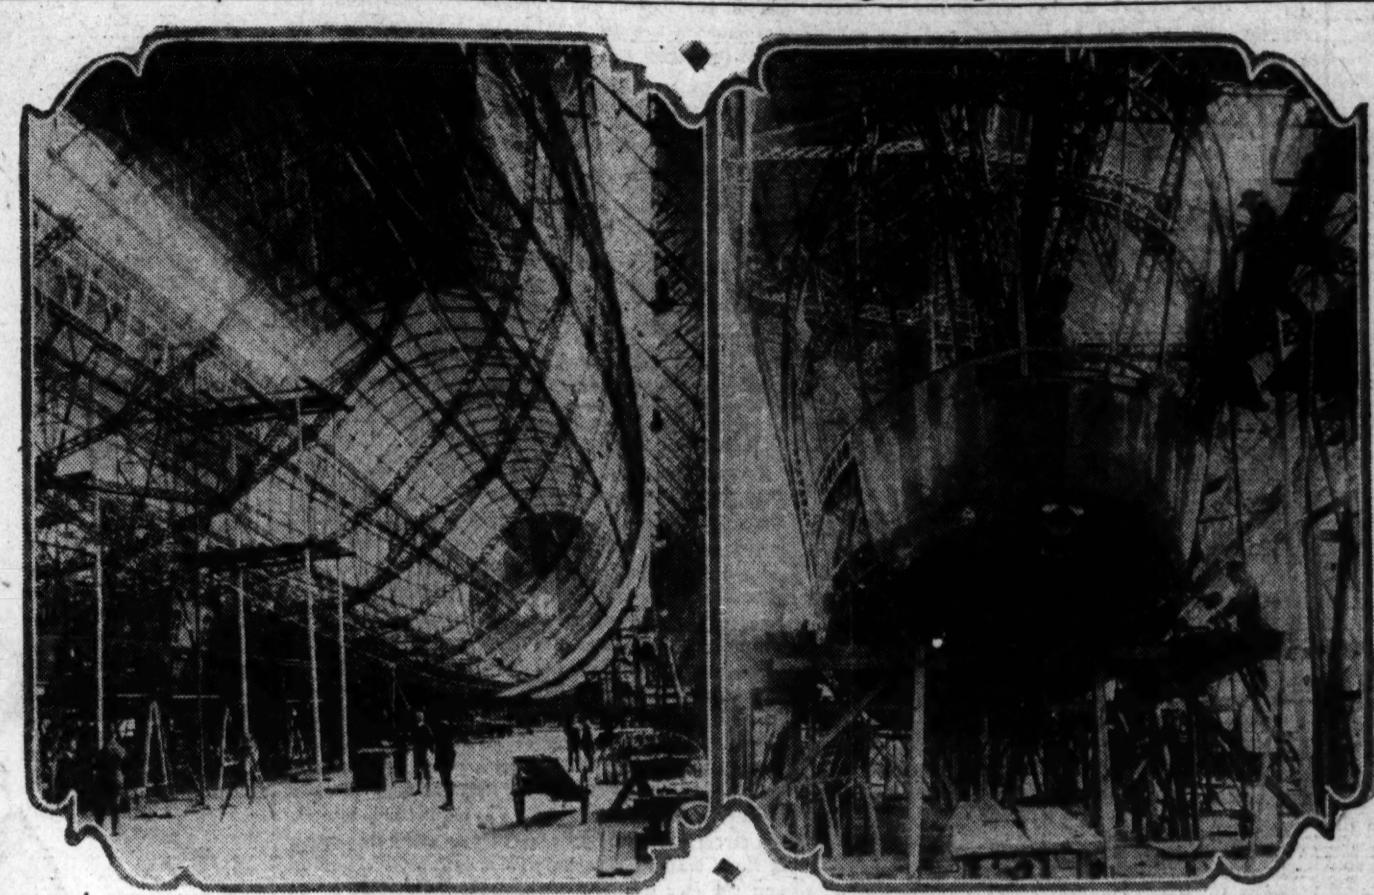

By the Associated Press.
HELENA, Mont., May 16.—Montana's eight votes in the Democratic convention will be cast for Gov. Smith of New York, so long as he has a chance of gaining the presidential nomination. This instruction was given by the state convention here yesterday.

If Smith should be unable to gain the nomination, the delegation was instructed to urge Senator Thomas J. Walsh to reconsider his withdrawal as a candidate, and if that is done, to support him.

The Democrats named Walsh as one of the delegates to the national convention.

The Republican State Convention did not instruct the 11 delegates for any candidate. Southern Baptists Vote to Support Only Dry Candidate.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 16.—The Southern Baptist Missionary Union convention unanimously adopted a resolution yesterday endorsing only those candidates for President and Vice President who are strictly committed to "observance and vigorous enforcement of the eighteenth amendment and the national prohibition act."

WYOMING G. O. P. Delegates Unpledged; Anti-Dry Move Fails.

By the Associated Press.
THEIRIMOPOLIS, Wyo., May 16.—Nine unpledged delegates to the Republican convention were chosen at the State convention here yesterday. George E. Cross failed in an attempt to obtain action on a resolution which would have placed Wyoming Republicans on record as favoring repeal of the eighteenth amendment. Before Cross could get a hearing adjournment was moved and carried.

Alabama's Delegation Instructed to Vote for Hoover.

By the Associated Press.
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 16.—The Alabama State Republican convention today adopted without dissenting vote a resolution instructing the Alabama delegation to the Republican national convention to vote as a unit for Herbert Hoover. Nine district conventions previously had instructed for Hoover.

SMALL REBELLION AGAINST INSTRUCTIONS FOR REED

City Committee, However, Tables Resolution to Swing to Gov. Smith.

A small rebellion against the Reed instructions binding the Missouri delegations to the Democratic National Convention in Houston appeared Monday at a meeting of the Democratic City Committee, when an effort was made to obtain adoption of a resolution asking Senator Reed to release the delegation if at any time Gov. Smith mustered a majority vote of the convention. The resolution was not permitted to go to a vote.

It was offered by P. J. McNamara, committeeman from the Twenty-Sixth Ward, and was read at length. There were expressions of sympathy with McNamara's intentions, but the resolution was objected to on the ground that it was not a matter for the City Committee to take up, and it was tabled.

It is known that several St. Louis delegates are favorable to Smith, and that it is their intention to demand a poll of the delegation on the convention floor if Smith has a majority of the convention. The action could not hope to be successful in revoking the instructions, but it would advertise a division in the State on Reed.

ROY CHAPMAN ANDREWS SHOT IN LEG IN MONGOLIA

Message Doesn't Indicate Whether He Had Been Wounded Accidently or By a Brigand.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, May 16.—Roy Chapman Andrews, leader of the Mongolian expedition, was wounded in the leg by a bullet, but is recovering, according to a cable message received yesterday by the American Museum of Natural History.

The message, signed by Walter Granger, paleontologist, with the museum's expedition follows: "Andrews shot left leg. Not permanently injured. Convalescing. Others well. New important discoveries. Expedition soon moving Western Gobi."

Museum officials said there was nothing to indicate whether Andrews had been wounded accidentally or shot by a brigand. He had been touring the world on a bicycle, interrupted to present his autobiography and explain his trip. "Really?" drawled Fitzmaurice. "Don't you find it awfully tiresome?"

AUGUST BUSCH HOST TO BREMEN FLYERS

Aviators Dine With Number of Other Guests at Grant's Farm.

A quiet afternoon was spent by the three Bremen flyers yesterday at the country place of August A. Busch, Grant's Farm, on Gravois road. They went there for lunch on after the morning parade and the ground-breaking ceremony at the German House site, and remained until 5 o'clock in the afternoon, when, with the usual roar of escorting police motor cycles, they were whisked to their hotel, the Jefferson, to prepare for the evening banquet at Hotel Chase.

Only casual notice was given to the group of machines going to and from the farm, since no schedule for these movements had been announced.

There were 22 plates at the table in the dining room—a table resplendent with flowers, lace cloths, silver and glassware, and laden with food. Busch and his son, August Jr., sat at the head and foot, respectively, and the guests, besides the three flyers and their personal representative, Robert Blythe, were: Charles Nagel, E. Lansing Ray, Stanley Clarke, Harold M. Kirby, Dr. George Ahrens, Col. M. N. Falls, Elsey Roberts, Walter B. Weisenburger, Mayor Miller, Lieutenant Colonel John A. Paegelow, Harry H. Knight, Joseph Pulitzer, L. W. Baldwin, City Counselor Mayor Oscar Euder and Health Commissioner Starkloff.

The party sat at table for two hours, and those present said it was a welcome opportunity for the much-feted visitors to relax in a small, congenial company. Many of those present spoke German; the tongue which Capt. Koehli and Baron von Huenefeld prefer.

It rained hard most of the afternoon, which prevented a visit to Hardacre, Gen. Grant's old cabin on the estate, or to the two monoplane flying field by "Casey" Lambert and Joe Hammer, pilots.

Visit the Bauernhof.

However, at 4:45 o'clock, the flyers and several of the guests were driven in a drizzle down an avenue of fine old trees to the Bauernhof, or elaborate farmyard. Awaiting them there were about 60 pupils from the nearby Sappington rural school, who set up a cheer as the "three musketeers" piled out of the limousine.

The Baron, smiling broadly, paused to pat a girl or two on the head, shake hands with some of the boys, salute the teachers, and more himself generally agreeable to the waiting group of policemen, chauffeurs, farmers, deputy sheriffs, photographers, reporters and pilots. Busch led Maj. Fitzmaurice into the carriage house, where old wheel conveyances and sleighs are preserved. The host pointed to a tall, thin and told the Irish flyer that, if he ever made a reputation, it was in driving such a vehicle. Fitzmaurice replied that he had driven a six-in-hand.

Meanwhile the two Germans had progressed to the baby elephant kept for the education of the Busch grandchildren. They watched its tricks, while the farm youngsters from school crowded around. Fitzmaurice admired Big Tom, the huge white ox. Next, the three chief guests viewed the horses, cows, and the dairy.

A lanky German youth, Erich Hilbert, who is touring the world on a bicycle, interrupted to present his autobiography and explain his trip. "Really?" drawled Fitzmaurice. "Don't you find it awfully tiresome?"

With much bowing, saluting and sincere expressions of mutual pleasure, the flyers finally departed. A crowd of about 2500 persons attended the ground breaking of the German House, a projected $300,000 community center, at 2345 Lafayette avenue, shortly after noon. Flags of the United States, the German republic and the Irish Free State and banners of 14 local German societies decorated the speakers' stand. A mixed chorus of men and women from German societies sang a greeting and a farewell. A pretty little 8-year-old girl presented the flyers with a bouquet of roses and later Mayor Miller gave each a gold watch, on behalf of German House, Inc.

COOLIDGE PLEADS FOR MORE ART AND BEAUTY

President Says Country Now
Should Cultivate Esthetic Spirit.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 16.—A plea for more art and beauty in the daily life of the American people in order that their "moral standards" might be raised was made here today by President Coolidge.

"It is especially the practical side of art that requires more emphasis," Mr. Coolidge said in an address opening a joint meeting of the American Federation of Arts and the American Association of Museums.

"We need to put more effort into translating art into the daily life of the people," he added. "If we could surround ourselves with forms of beauty, the evil things of life would tend to disappear and our moral standards would be raised. Through our contact with the beautiful, we see more of the truth and are brought into closer contact with the infinite."

Says Art Spirit Is Real.
"Our country has reached a point where this is no longer a visionary desire but is becoming an actual reality. With general prosperity, with high wages, with reasonable hours of labor, has come both the means and the time to cultivate the artistic spirit."

"Philanthropy has given the people access to all that is most beautiful in form and color. It is theirs without money and without price, if they will but go and possess it. Out of our agriculture, our commerce and our industry, we can see already emerging a new spirit. The potential is becoming actual."

Through science and invention, gradually but surely, we are banishing the drudgery of existence and bringing into every avenue of living a touch of the artistic. We are working out the ideal under which every one will realize that he is an artist, in his employment, in his recreation and in his relations with others."

Cites Two Influences.

President Coolidge cited the Chicago world's fair of 1893 and the Washington Plan Commission, created in 1901 as two mighty influences in the artistic awakening of the United States. The great development of museums was praised by him as affording inspiration for a revival of beauty in this country.

"Art in the extension of your work has been given by various philanthropic endowments," Mr. Coolidge said. "One is interested in the elevation of industrial arts in America on the sound theory that beauty in a commercial product is worth while, not only materially, but also esthetically, and that it gives an opportunity to bring art into the home."

A. F. L. Delegates to Geneva.

GENEVA, May 16.—The American Federation of Labor has accepted an invitation to send official observers to the International Conference opening May 30 to study means of reducing industrial accidents. The United States State Department has declined the invitation. The International Labor office has been advised that John Walker, president of the Illinois Federation of Labor, not only will act as an observer but also as spokesman for all the Federation delegates.

Poland's Position if At-

LONDON, May 16.—The British Government's reply to Secretary of State Kellogg's anti-war pact proposal will be dispatched within a week and it will constitute an acceptance of the American scheme, the correspondent was informed from reliable sources.

The reply may raise certain questions, however, regarding matters of interpretation and definition arising out of the draft pact, although these questions have already been communicated to the State Department in the diplomatic conversations on the subject.

At the same time it is understood the French Foreign Office is fully informed of the British viewpoint on the pact. So far as officials here know, however, the French Government is still standing pat on the reservations previously proposed to Kellogg's draft.

The situation which would arise if Poland, which has not yet been invited to sign the pact, were attacked by one of the signatories—Germany, of course—is said here to be one of the principal questions which are worrying the French Government.

Would Include Little Entente.
The British attitude regarding this point is that there is no necessity for the pact to be universally accepted before becoming operative, as the French have suggested. It would be highly advantageous that Poland and the Little Entente Powers be included, if possible, among the original signatory Powers.

This, it is believed here, should satisfy the most important French doubts about the pact.

Aside from the moral value which the proposed pact would exercise, the British official attitude, as explained to the correspondent, is that the conclusion of the pact is "the best way to strengthen the present great weakness of the League of Nations as a peace maintaining organization."

With the United States outside of the League, it is realized here that it would be practically impossible for the League ever to lay down an economic blockade against an aggressor country unless America acquiesced in such a blockade, which it is admitted would be extremely unlikely.

On the other hand, if one of the signatories to the anti-war pact broke the pact and the League proposed an economic boycott of that Power, here is the hope—and, some believe, here that the United States, even if it did not actually join in, would feel morally obligated not to attempt to break the blockade of the Power which had violated such a treaty.

It is this hope—and belief which it is a considerable extent responsible for overcoming a certain amount of objection here in the beginning to Kellogg's proposal.

When the question of the British answer came up in the House of Lords yesterday afternoon, a resolution urging that the Kellogg proposals receive prompt and favorable consideration was presented by Lord Reading, and was unanimously adopted.

Australia's Approval.

In replying to questions in the House of Commons during the afternoon, Sir Austen Chamberlain admitted Premier Bruce of Australia had cabled his approval of the Kellogg pact.

Sir Austen also said he hoped the British reply to the Kellogg note would be sent "shortly," but that discussions with the British dominions regarding the pact were still going on. Asked what international obligations existed which imposed restrictions on the British acceptance of the pact, he replied: "The League of Nations, the Locarno pact and certain other treaty obligations."

By the latter term it is assumed he meant the treaty guaranteeing Belgian neutrality.

Rhymed Burlesque

THE SAGA OF CAPT. JOHN SMITH. By Christopher Ward. (Harpers.)

THIS more or less clever burlesque in rhyme is evidently intended to be side-splitting, the sort of thing that sends vast readers into gales of laughter. But it is just as well to see how the publicity scheme works. The verses are cleverly rhymed, save for an occasional rhymed word or words as salaman, making of propaganda, slaughter and quarter, which, however, is a matter of geographical determinism.

The facious record is divided into three parts—in Europe, in Virginia, and in Boston. Cap'n Smith's alleged doings in Europe are concerned with deadly encounters between the hero and various Turks, set forth with all the readily recognizable earmarks of hilarity, but somehow hardly laugh-making. In Virginia, Smith meets Powhatan and Pocahontas, the latter being presented as the natural daughter of Queen Elizabeth. Here is a description of the lady:

She was a girl of sweet sixteen,
The kind in movies often seen.
All golden was her golden hair,
Her cheeks like Georgia peaches,
And on her legs she wore a pair
Of English riding breeches.
A station hat was on her head,
Her eyes were blue as bluing.
Her nose was white, her lips were
Red, but needed some renewing.

Later we find this:

She paused and turned her eyes to
To Smith the architect of her glances.
He stirred uneasily. He tried
To look unconscious, when she Agitated
And took his little hand in hers.
He felt her clasping fingers burn.
One arm around his neck she Twined,
And more than once she kissed
His chin.

Though 'twas a trifle unrefined,
He sure admired her system.

The last part, though retaining something of the approved machinery of hilarity, is really rather serious, dealing, as it does, with the Boston literary censorship, the book question and the Sacho-Vanzetti affair. The following is representative:

And musing thus he (Smith) only
Rejoiced
The thoughts in which his mind
Rejoiced:
"Hail Massachusetts! There she Stands,
The paragon of all the lands!
Her wealth and manhood dedicate
To liberty for small and great, etc.

He'd just achieved this invocation
When someone grabbed him by the Shoulder,
And forced a swift circumgyration.
He met an eye as cold—yes, colder

Than ice, and yet it seemed to Smolder
With a threatened conflagration.
"Now why the hell are ye standin' here?"

Ye look to me like somethin' queer.
Ye look to me like a goddam Red.
Move on, I say, or I'll bust yer head!"

SOME MEMORIES OF A SOLDIER. By Major-General Hugh L. Scott. (Century Co.)

Few men have had more varied careers than Gen. Scott. Born in 1853, he graduated from West Point in 1876 and served immediately as lieutenant of cavalry in the Sioux country and a year later against the Nez Percés. After many years of Indian service he was made adjutant-general of Cuba, serving in that capacity from 1898 to 1903. For three years thereafter he was governor of the Sulu Archipelago. From 1906 to 1910 he served as superintendent and commander of West Point and was Chief of Staff of the United States Army from 1914 to 1917, when the war broke out. His retirement, but he remained on active duty until 1919 and saw front-line service with various Allied armies. Gen. Scott is now a member of the Board of Indian Commissioners. "Some Memories of a Soldier" is an important and intensely interesting book.

THE HAWK OF COMO. By John Oxenham. (Longmans, Green & Co.)

THE MYSTERY OF TUNNEL 51. By Alexander Wilson. (Longmans, Green & Co.)

RUBBISH, in the detective-story manner, about a Bolshevik plot in India and its foiling by a boyishly naive Sir Leonard Something-or-other. It sounds like Under-Secretary of State Olds talking about Mexico.

JAY GOULD. By Robert Irving Warshaw. (Greenberg.)

WHERE one inclined to take stock in omens, much might be made of the fact that Jay Gould first went to New York with a new kind of mousetrap. True, the mousetrap was almost stolen from him the first day, and it never made his fortune, but it is highly suggestive of the way the fortune was made. Jay Gould never played fairly in the open with anybody. His ways were devious and his path to wealth strewn with other people's wallets he had emptied into his own.

Scheming, daring, unscrupulous, Jay Gould got his fortune. And this is his story. Warshaw goes into no tedious details. There is little of Gould's manipulations which affected St. Louis. The story hits only the high spots, but includes about everything anyone has any desire to know about a slippery customer.

MORE ON SHAVING CREAM.

If a person attends sales of shaving cream regularly, he soon can get enough odds and ends, given free with the shaving cream, to furnish a flat. We have even day, so naturally we attend all the sales. We hope that the next time we go to a sale, a key, something like those put in cans of sardines, is furnished with the shaving cream. Our last tube of the brand we are now using exercised our patience, our strength, our ingenuity, and our command of language during the winter. Naturally we supposed that the stuff had congealed or that it had hardened during the winter. Spring, we thought, would alter its composition. Like Hoover in Indiana, we thought, our ingenuity. We pressed gently, but firmly, on the bottom of the tube. No results. We forgot about being gentle, and pressed firmly. Some shaving cream came out the bottom of the tube. Angered, we hit the tube with a hammer. We achieved sudden results, but the bathroom air is practically ruined. Now we know why the user is told to use only a little at a time. That is all he can get out of the tube—if he is strong, and patient and persevering—at any time.

All things are relative, and we never learn how small an amount $300,000 really is until that amount is raised for a prospective candidate.

One in a position to know assures us that as a relentless questioner, a Senate investigating committee has nothing on a 5-year-old "on the" - "lies are 3-year-old to him.

What worries us is the delicate matter of informing Senator Foss that after the keynote speech, the keynote speaker is supposed to speak.

ARCHITECTS' MEETING OPENS AT HOTEL CHASE

Committee on Allied Arts Urges Collaboration on National Convention.

With a distinguished gathering of architects and representatives of allied arts and the building industry, the sixty-first annual convention of the American Institute of Architects began today at Hotel Chase. Delegates from 68 chapters are in attendance, the St. Louis chapter being host.

After a speech of welcome by L. B. Taylor Pendleton, president of the local chapter, Milton B. Medary of Philadelphia, president of the Institute, delivered the presiding officer's annual address.

A report of the Committee on Allied Arts, made by its chairman, J. Monroe Hewlett of New York, sounded the keynote of the convention—the mobilization of the arts and crafts going into good architecture, to avoid isolated effort and confusion. The report urged extension throughout the nation of a system of honors for superior craftsmanship and the establishment of honor awards in architecture and the kindred crafts.

For Intelligent Collaboration. Hewlett declared that intelligent collaboration in the arts of design seems to be accepted definitely now as one of the great educational requisites in the training of architects and other designers. The institute, he continued, should foster collaboration of the architect, the sculptor, the mural painter and the landscape architect. This is an age of mass production, he pointed out, and individual artistry cannot be carried to the extremes of the Middle Ages.

Addresses supporting that principle of mobilization were delivered by Walter S. Brewster, director of the School of Landscape Architecture, Lake Forest, Ill.; Royal Corbasson of New York, Federal Architect, New York, a member of the National Fine Arts Commission, and Dean Everett W. Meeks of the Yale University School of Fine Arts.

It was reported that building congresses to accord recognition of excellence in craftsmanship in connection with definite projects had been organized in New York, Philadelphia, Boston and Portland, Ore. Certificates are given by the organizations to excellent workmen, thereby promoting a valuable esprit de corps.

Objects to Bill in Congress. Abram Garfield of Cleveland, chairman of the Committee on Public Works, has issued a statement voicing the opposition of the architectural profession to a bill pending in Congress to consolidate the various Government agencies of construction under the Department of the Interior, with an engineer at its head. The objection is that public architecture probably would be brought under the administrative control of an engineer, for the bulk of the bureau's work would be on civil engineering projects.

A further objection is that the National Commission of Fine Arts would lose its status as an independent body by going into the Interior Department, thereby jeopardizing its fine work as planner and developer of the national capital.

There was a luncheon of the convention at Hotel Chase today. The treasurer's report and the beginning of the lengthy report of the board of directors were on the afternoon program. The directors had been in session here since Saturday. The visitors will be taken for an automobile tour of the more interesting parts of the city, from the architectural standpoint, late this afternoon, and will be entertained by the St. Louis chapter at dinner at Hotel Coronado tonight.

The convention will continue tomorrow and Friday. Tomorrow is "draftsmen's day" and all architects, draftsmen and students of the profession in St. Louis have been invited to a luncheon at the Chase. The City Art Museum will be the scene of a formal gathering Friday night, when the institute medals in fine arts and craftsmanship will be awarded and the election of officers announced. Reception in the galleries by the Board of Control of the museum will follow.

AD CLUB ELECTS NINE TO BOARD OF GOVERNORS

All of the New Members Except One Will Hold Office for Two Years.

Election of nine members to the Board of Governors of the Advertising Club of St. Louis was announced yesterday in a luncheon meeting of the club at Hotel Statler. They were Joseph P. Licklider, Sidney E. Carter, Clarence R. Comfort, G. V. Kenton, Frank P. Gibbs, David H. Fleischer, Hart Vance Jr., George F. Schall and Paul Allen Ebbs.

All will serve two years except Ebbs, who will serve one year.

Missionary Work Reviewed.

The sixtieth anniversary of missionary work in foreign countries by Evangelical churches is being celebrated at St. Peter's Evangelical Church where 200 members of the young people's department took part last night in a program showing the nature of the missionary work being done. Moving pictures of foreign scenes, exhibits of articles of native manufacture, and young people in native costumes of China, Philippine Islands, Hindustan, India and other missionary fields, constituted a program that will be repeated tonight and to-

WITNESS IN OSAGE MURDERS ASKS COURT FOR NEW TRIAL

Kelcie Morrison, Who Told of Plot in Court, Now Serving Life Prison Term.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok.—Kelcie Morrison, who was the State's star witness in the case against Ernest Burkhart, convicted of participating in one of the series of Osage Indian murders in 1921, has appealed to the Criminal Court of Appeals from a conviction for the murder of Anna Brown. Osage Indian woman, Morrison was sentenced to life imprisonment when tried in the District Court of Washington County several weeks ago. Burkhart, who was arrested with his uncle, W. K. Hale, and charged with the murder of W. E. Smith, his Indian wife and a servant girl, was placed on trial in the District Court of Osage County after he had refused to testify for the State against his uncle.

Morrison was called to the stand as a State's witness against Burkhart. With downcast eyes, he started the case by declaring that he and Byren Burkhart, Ernest's brother, had taken Anna Brown, sister of Mrs. Smith and of Mrs. Ernest Burkhart, to a canyon where they left her in an intoxicated condition, returning later and shooting her through the head. It was Hale's weapon that was used to kill the woman, Morrison charged. He related the story after he had been informed by the District Judge that his evidence could not be used against him.

Burkhart suddenly halted the trial by pleading guilty and accepting life imprisonment. Later he testified for the Government when Hale and John Ramsey were on trial for slaying Henry Roan, another Osage Indian. Both were sent to Leavenworth for life, but on appeal to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, Hale's case was reversed and remanded.

Following the trials, Morrison was charged with the murder of Anna Brown. He was granted a change of venue from Osage County to Washington County and was convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment.

FARM RELIEF WILL BE CHIEF ISSUE THIS FALL, 'AYS LOWDEN

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 15.—Farm relief will be the outstanding issue in this year's presidential campaign, in the opinion of Frank J. Lowden, former Governor of Illinois and candidate for the Republican presidential nomination. "The national election this fall will be the hardest fought in years," he said. "Make no mistake about it. The one way for the Republican party to achieve success is to maintain the alignment between the agricultural West and the industrial East. If that partnership is split, the Democrats will be the victors."

Lowden was in New York on his way home from Washington, where he testified in the Senate's presidential campaign fund inquiry. Prohibition he refused to discuss, saying that it was not an issue in the West and that the important problems confronting the country were economic. When asked by newspapermen if he were wet or dry, he said "that is an improper question."

Explaining his reason for not entering the Indiana and Ohio primaries, Lowden said: "A candidate cannot very well go into a state and make a fight against a favorite son and incidentally a state organization without leaving bad feelings and bad blood which come back to plague him and the party during the campaign."

He said he expected the Kansas City convention to nominate Vice candidate in open meeting and not in a "smoke-filled room in the early morning."

84-YEAR-OLD MAN KILLED BY TRAIN IN GRANITE CITY

C. J. Wilhelm, 84 years old, a cigar maker, 2201 Missouri avenue, Granite City, was killed yesterday when struck by a Chicago & Alton train at the twentieth street grade crossing, the scene of several previous fatalities.

Wilhelm, who moved to Granite City from St. Louis 25 years ago, had crossed the tracks thousands of times in going downtown from his home. He was planning to move from Granite City and was returning home, after bidding friends goodbye, when killed. He is survived by his widow and three sons.

HERE IS INSTANT RELIEF FOR DEAFNESS

Roaring and hissing sounds, discharge, pains, sensitive and tender ears, all ear drum trouble. You will be surprised how quickly Aurine will help you. You may be a chronic long-time sufferer, you may have tried many things without relief, but do not give up hope before you know what Aurine Ear Balsam can do for you. Dr. Edward Kolar, M. D., said, "Aurine helped cases I had given up as hopeless. A truly remarkable scientific remedy."
Stop paying high prices for earphones, stop buying expensive treatments and enjoy the glorious relief that more than 100,000 others have found in Aurine. A few drops in each ear and relief comes instantly. Mr. R. P. Maxwell, a well-known Deputy Sheriff, says, "Just started using my second bottle and am glad to state that I can now hear my watch tick. Today was the first time, this summer, I heard the church bell ring." No matter how stubborn or what your trouble is, you must try Aurine. No risk, no chance, no doubt, Aurine must do the work or cost you nothing.

Reduce the Acid

In sick stomachs—instantly

Sick stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach nerves are over-stimulated. Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines sour.
Alkali kills acid instantly. The best form is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, because one harmless, tasteless dose neutralizes many times its volume in acid. Since its invention, 50 years ago, it has remained the standard with physicians everywhere.
Take a spoonful in water and your unhappy condition will probably end in five minutes. Then you will always know what to do. Crude and harmful methods will never appeal to you. Go prove this for your own sake. It may save a great many disagreeable hours.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acid. 5cc and 50cc bottles—any drug store.
"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor, Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

WEAK, SICKLY CONDITION, HEALTH GOING DOWN-HILL

"I was very weak and run-down," says Mrs. Mary B. Mills, of Wytheville, Va. "I got worse and worse, and had no strength at all. It was a critical time in my life, and it was hard for me to keep up."
"I was so I could not keep going. I was 'going down-hill' for a long time."
"I ached all over, and could not rest at night. I was very nervous. I had read of Cardui and one of my friends, in discussing my illness, asked me why I did not try it. I decided to do so, and soon found I was being helped."

"I began to get stronger, and I felt and looked better. My rest, which had been broken, was good. I gained in weight and felt better than I had been."
"I am strong and well."
Great numbers of other women have written to describe the relief they obtained through the use of Cardui.
Having helped so many others, Cardui should help you, too. Why not give it a good trial?

MORE JAPANESE TROOPS TO BE SENT TO CHINA

Tokio Cabinet at Special Session Decides on Increasing Expeditionary Force.

By the Associated Press.
TOKIO, May 16.—A clash between Northern and Southern (Nationalist) forces, who are threatening Tientsin and again was thought to be imminent today. A dispatch from Peking to Rengo, a Japanese news agency, said 2700 members of the families of Northern officers and officials had been sent to Mukden, Manchuria. Most of them were women and children. This was taken to indicate that the Northerners thought the battle might decide the fate of Peking.

Advices from Tientsin say that the Northern dictator, Chang Tso-Lin, at Peking, has ordered the Peking-Mukden and the Tientsin-Pukow railways to suspend all freight traffic and send 15 trains to the Northern capital to expedite troop movements. The retreat of the Northern forces to their prepared positions has thus far been executed smoothly.

Japan to Send More Troops.
The Japanese Cabinet at a special meeting today decided to send more troops to China. The third division from Nagoya, which at present is moving toward Shantung, may be partly diverted toward the Manchurian border. More troops, therefore, were thought to be necessary to protect Shantung, where Japanese and Chinese clashed recently.

It was generally indicated that the Japanese would not permit fighting in Manchuria. Its was understood that Marshal Chang had been so warned.
There were rumors that Japan unofficially advised Chang to return to Mukden before hostilities broke out at Peking or Tientsin for fear of an attempt on his part to seek refuge in Manchuria might not be permitted. There have been various rumors that Chang had left or was about to leave Peking.

Looking in Tientsin.
The chief of the general staff has instructed Gen. Fukuda, Japanese commander at Tientsin, to agree to the request of the Southerners that they be allowed to pass through Tientsin, provided they agree to the Japanese demands for satisfaction for the recent incidents. It is reported that 100,000 Southerners are being held up at Tientsin pending the reopening of railway traffic to the North.
It was stated authoritatively today that, although it had been hoped the Chinese would be able to undertake the maintenance of peace and order in Tientsin, there have been so many cases of looting and brigandage within and without the city, that it is understood the Japanese military authorities will take over the administration temporarily.

M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH, GAINS 1481 IN YEAR IN DISTRICT

Sunday Schools Show Increase of 1518 Members. Report at Annual Conference Says.
Methodist churches in the St. Louis district gained 1481 members in the last year, their Sunday school 1518 and the Epworth League 526 new members, according to reports at the district conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, at Immanuel Methodist Church, McCausland and Stanley avenues, yesterday.
Women's missionary societies of the church, it was reported, increased in membership 1518 and raised $11,890. A total of $40,000 was raised in the district for new churches, improvements and reduction of indebtedness. St. John's Church led with $275,000 raised for a new building. In addition, $12,000 was obtained for ministerial relief and pensions.
Among the speakers at the all-day conference was Bishop William F. McMurry of Fayette, who said the modern church was placing too much emphasis on institutionalism and was overlooking spiritual values.

PEOPLE'S MOTORBUS CO. GETS HOLLY HILLS LINE PERMIT

Service in Area Surrounding Carondelet Park Supplemental to South Grand Route.
Permission to operate busses over a new route through the Holly Hills district, surrounding Carondelet Park, to supplement the present South Grand boulevard line, was issued yesterday to the People's Motorbus Co. by the Board of Public Service.
The new route follows: Kingshighway Southwest, between Grand boulevard and Carlsbad avenue; Arden drive from Kingshighway Southwest to Wilmington avenue; Wilmington avenue from Arden drive to Coronado drive; Coronado drive from Wilmington avenue to Kingshighway Southwest; Kansas between Grand and Vermont avenues; Vermont avenue from Kansas to Loughborough avenue; Loughborough from Vermont to Alabama avenue, and Alabama from Loughborough to Kansas avenue.

SLIGHT DECREASE IN FRISCO DIVIDENDS UNDER 1926

Efficiency in Management Offset Shrinkage of $5,000,000 in Gross Assets in 1927.
Though its gross income shrank $5,146,470 in 1927, the St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad suffered a decrease in net income of only $1,215,116 and its income available for dividends on common and preferred stock was $7,464,235, compared with $7,546,162 in 1926.

The road's annual report comments that better operating efficiency and other savings were responsible for the record and this despite the fact that operating conditions were unfavorable due to excessive rainfalls throughout its territory. The road suffered $500,000 loss from property damage by floods.

Aching, Swollen Feet

No sensible person will continue to suffer from these intense aching, throbbing foot pains when every well stocked drug store has Moore's Throat and Foot Pills with an absolute guarantee of satisfaction or money back.
Your feet are so swollen and inflamed that you think you can't go another step. Your shoes may feel as if they are cutting right into the flesh. You feel sick all over with the pain and torture. You'd give anything to get relief, wouldn't you? Then try this:
Two or three applications of Moore's Emerald Oil and in fifteen minutes the pain and soreness disappears. A few more applications at regular intervals and the swelling redness and inflammation are gone for good. It's a wonderful formula—the combination of essential oils with camphor and other antiseptics so marvellously effective in relieving aches and pains for reducing varicose or swollen veins.
Wolff-Wilsons Drug Stores and every good druggist have Moore's Emerald Oil to end your foot troubles or money back.

Are You Run Down, Weak, Nervous?

To have plenty of firm flesh and the ability to do a big day's work and feel "like a two-year old" at night, you must eat three good meals a day, relish your food and properly digest it. If you can't eat, can't sleep, can't work, just take a teaspoonful of Tanlac before meals.
Mrs. Grace Jackson, of 125 East 20th St., Chattanooga, Tenn., says: "My stomach was so bad my weight went down to 72 lbs. and we had spent all my husband made for treatment. After several bottles of Tanlac I could eat heartily and now enjoy life."
Tanlac is wonderful for indigestion and constipation—gas, pains, nausea, dizziness and headaches. It brings back lost appetite, helps you digest your food, and gain strength and weight. It contains no mineral drugs; it is made of roots, barks and herbs, nature's own medicines for the sick. The cost is less than 2 cents a dose. Get a bottle from your druggist. Your money back if it doesn't help.

THE HUMAN BODY

By LOGAN
CLENDENING
M.D.

Some Facts About the Composition of Your Blood, Which Isn't as Simple a Matter as Many Suppose—How Blood Cells Die and Are Renewed.

The Blood and Lymphatic System.

THE blood is a tissue. Like all tissues, it consists of cells placed in an amorphous intracellular stroma. On account of the peculiar functions of the blood, it is a messenger and mediator between all parts of the body. It must be able to move; so its stroma, the blood-serum, is fluid, whereas the stroma of every other tissue is solid. Another peculiarity of the blood is that it is the most numerous and important cells, the red cells, are without nuclei. Still another peculiarity of the blood is its ability to solidify, or, as we say technically, coagulate, when it reaches air. If it did not have this feature, the smallest cut in a blood-vessel would shortly drain every drop of blood from the body.

The cells of the blood are of two classes. The most numerous, as I have just said, are the red cells. These are wheel-shaped, with an indentation in the center. They are made up in chemical composition largely of iron in the form of haemoglobin. They carry oxygen from the lungs to the tissues, and carbon dioxide from the tissues to the lungs.

The white cells of the blood are of various kinds, differing quite distinctly in appearance. It will do no particular good, so far as I can see, to enumerate here the various kinds of white cells. Their names must appear quite formidable to a lay reader: (1) polymorphonuclear neutrophils, (2) lymphocytes, (3) basophils, (4) eosinophils, (5) monocytes, etc. Their functions appear to be protective and healing.

Mechnikoff called the polymorphonuclear neutrophils "leucocytes" because they concentrated at any point in the body where infection was present and swallowed or engulfed the invading germs. The number of them which is actually in the blood under normal circumstances is small compared with their number at the time of infection, when they greatly increase. Inasmuch as we can count them quite accurately, this fact is taken advantage of for purposes of diagnosis in obscure inner infections such as appendicitis and pneumonia.

Another function of the white cells is the healing of wounds. This appears largely to develop upon a type of cell called the mononuclear, though all the others have some share in it.

One other body of a sort seen nowhere else occurs in the blood. It is called the blood-platelet. Histologists have been completely baffled in attempting to classify it, as it is not a cell. It looks more like a dismembered nucleus than anything else. Its function is also debatable. The best guess on the subject seems to be that it is concerned in the act of coagulation—that it disintegrates upon being exposed to the air, liberating the fibrin-forming elements thromboplastin, necessary for coagulation.

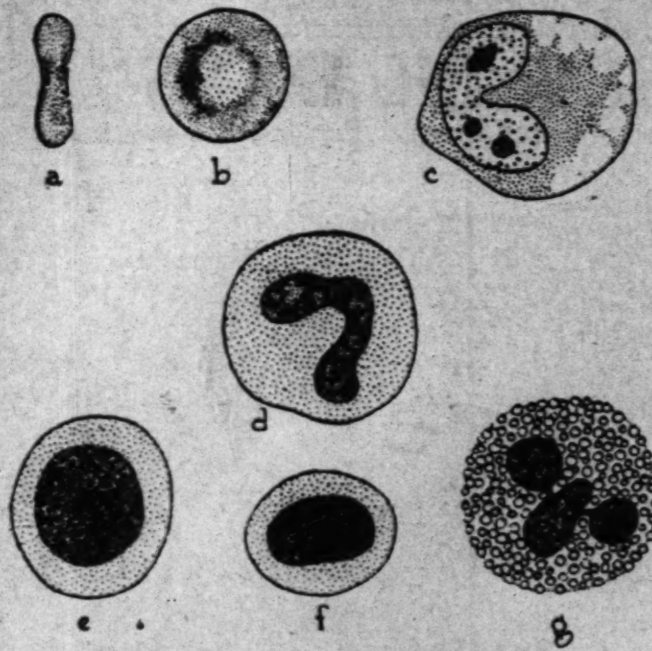

At any rate, we know that in such blood diseases as purpura, when the coagulating power of the blood is greatly reduced, the blood-platelets are conspicuously absent from the blood.

The act of coagulation itself is one of great interest. Its biologic purpose is quite plain—to prevent all the blood from oozing out of the body through one aperture if a blood-vessel is severed. When an opening is made in a blood-vessel, the blood forms a clear fluid or cork covering the opening in the vessel and preventing the escape of any blood behind it. The function of coagulation has been developed during the process of evolution, because any animal whose blood does not have that property is sure to die off before it can have progeny.

The phenomena of coagulation or clotting have received great attention from physiologists since the earliest times. The gross facts are that if you remove a tablespoonful of blood from a vein and allow it to stand in a clean test-tube for a few minutes, it will form a solid jelly-like mass which sticks to the sides of the tube; it will not spill if the tube is inverted. If allowed to remain half an hour, a portion containing all the cells will contract down, squeezing a clear fluid from it, so that the tube now looks as if a central cord of red jelly were suspended in a clear yellowish fluid.

The central mass contains all the blood-cells stuck together and encased in some strands of a gelatinous material called fibrin. The important and as yet unknown fact about coagulation is the mode of formation of the fibrin. Fibrin does not exist as such in the blood, but a substance, fibrinogen, which is formed by the liver does so exist and this, when acted upon by another substance, thrombin, forms fibrin. Thrombin itself does not exist in the blood, but is formed by the action of several substances.

One of these is calcium, one is an enzyme, which probably is formed by the blood-platelets dissolving. In other words to recapitulate the process of coagulation, the blood-platelets first dissolve, liberating thromboplastin; this unites with calcium to form thrombin; thrombin acts on fibrinogen to form fibrin; fibrin is the clot. The process is complicated, and is discussed in more detail in larger works on physiology. (See Howell's Text-book on Physiology.) There are certain very interesting and unusual diseases which result from the inability of the blood to clot. One of these is called hemophilia. It is strictly hereditary and like many hereditary diseases is transmitted in a certain line. It always skips a generation and occurs only in males. But males never transmit it. It is transmitted in the female line. In other words, mothers transmit it only to sons.

Types of blood-cells. a, b—red cells, seen sidewise (a) and flat (b). c—an endothelial cell. d—a leucocyte, the most numerous type of white blood-cell. e and f—large and small lymphocytes. g—an eosinophilic leucocyte.

The recipient of it is likely to bleed profusely at the slightest injury, the hemorrhage going into the internal tissues, usually joints. I had one patient, a boy who drove a butcher's wagon, and the day he received in jumping down from the wagon started so many hemorrhages into his joints, before he knew what was the matter with him, that he was crippled for life. It is the usual fate of the individual. We have no insight into what substance in the blood is lacking in hemophilia.

In purpura, a similar condition in some ways, the number of blood-platelets is decreased. This we can treat by transfusion, injecting the blood of another individual into the patient. Surgeons use various substances to stop hemorrhages which they cannot control otherwise—calcium, horse-serum, and artificial thromboplastin.

The formation and destruction of blood-cells do not take place in the blood-stream. The red cells, without nuclei, cannot divide and increase, and the white cells do not, probably because they are too adult. The site and method of blood formation and destruction have engaged the attention of a great many workers. The consensus of opinion is that the red cells are formed in the bone marrow. There is no consensus of opinion as to where the white cells are formed.

Two views exist: one, the unitarian view, that they are all formed in the bone marrow from a certain single type of cell; the other, that some are formed in the marrow, some in the lymph glands, and some in the lining of the smaller arteries. Where the blood-cells go when they die is a matter that is also far from any satisfactory solution. Whether they go to one place

For the May Birthday Party

THE apple blossom, which is the May flower, and the emerald, the birthstone of the month, make a very pleasing combination for the color scheme of the May birthday party.

Cut out the apple blossoms from the all-over crepe paper and fasten these to natural branches. Cover jardiniere (or tin pails) with emerald green crepe paper and fill with the apple blossoms. Use these generously in the decorations. Make apple blossom chains by attaching the paper blossoms to green metal cord. Fasten these at regular intervals along the table edge of the white table cover and let them hang to bottom edge of the cloth.

For the light shades have a wreath, any graceful shape, and suspend the apple blossoms from the hoop, making them any desired length. Green metal pails cut into points will make an effective table centerpiece. Decorate the birthday cake with candles to simulate sparkling metals and on center of cake have a cluster of apple blossoms formed of oval pink candies with tiny yellow centers. Stems and foliage can be made with frosting. On the table cloth radiating from the cake outwardly, place as many blossom chains as there are candles and at the end of each have a green candle-holder containing a pink candle. The figure these will form around the cake will depend upon the number of candles used.

Paper festoons in emerald green, intertwined with the apple blossoms make an effective overhead decoration. As to the birthday gift, emeralds are largely represented among the jewels. There are exquisite boudoir clocks in attractive glistening emerald finish. Among the cloisonné novelties emerald is prominent. Compacts in emerald enamel are numerous. Diaries with locks, come in green covers. Electric wall lights for the porch or sunroom are in attractive designs and green in color.

How would a bridge set in book form do? Pretty ones in emerald green are fitted with two packs of playing cards. A magazine stand that can be carried wherever the reader wishes, comes in the emerald hue. So do leather cushions with handles and magazine or book covers.

All handy articles for vacation lists. An emerald glass lemonade set or one of those attractive sanitizing brick to porch use make timely gifts. Among the table appointments, especially in the glassware sections, are many suggestions for May gifts for the housewife.

A basket in emerald green filled with artificial apple blossoms would be an appropriate May gift, and, of course, a birthday present could be concealed under the flowers.

A Sewing Help. One woman who does a great deal of sewing has a padded cover brick to porch use make timely gifts. Among the table appointments, especially in the glassware sections, are many suggestions for May gifts for the housewife.

A basket in emerald green filled with artificial apple blossoms would be an appropriate May gift, and, of course, a birthday present could be concealed under the flowers.

ETIQUETTE

By Kathrine de Peyster.

BE "LETTER" PERFECT! PLEASE tell me to whom (which is correct who or whom) I should address a telegram of congratulations for an engagement, the reception being given by the parents of the bride-to-be at a hotel. The young man is the only one I know. Should I start the telegram by saying:

Mr. So-and-So and Miss? Also in having my personal stationery monogrammed (I haven't a middle name) is it correct to add to the initial of my married name, or do I take my husband's initials and add my initial of my maiden Christian name in the center?

2. Would greatly appreciate if you would correct me in any mistakes I may have made in this letter to you.

A READER. 1. If you are sending your telegram of congratulations at the time of the reception it is best to address it to: Miss Alice Browne and Mr. George Wood. "Whom," as you write in your sentence, is correct. Grammatically, however, the object of the preposition is and should, therefore, be in the objective case.

2. Usually a married woman uses her monogram the initial of her first name, the initial of the last name of her maiden name, and the initial of her husband's surname. For instance, if Mary Smith marries Frank Gould, she uses as her monogram MSG. This is the correct form for the monogram that she has engraved after her marriage, and the one that she uses when she embroders the linens that she buys after she is married. For instance, write:

3. There are many details in your letter that need careful attention. To begin with, you should plan to have some new letter paper. White, dignified and of the conventional two-sheet kind. Then, too, never use green ink. Black is best. Use no abbreviations on your envelope or in the heading of your letter. Do not use subject-less sentences. For instance, write: "Would greatly appreciate." Instead of "Would greatly appreciate."

The complimentary close "Respectfully yours," is not in particular a good form. It is reserved for letters from a secretary to a master or mistress, and from tradespeople to their clients. For the ending of a business letter is incorrect. A married woman should never sign her letters with her husband's name prefixed by Mrs. For your letter to me this is the correct form of your signature:

MARY FRANK GOULD.
(Mrs. Frank Gould.)

SEATING ARRANGEMENTS. At a party when partners are chosen for supper, and all are going to sit at a long table, on which side of her partner is a woman to be seated?

Things Tinted Ecru. Ecru articles are apt to become straggly looking if washed a number of times. Try adding a cup of strong coffee to the rinse water and see how it will brighten up the faded appearance.

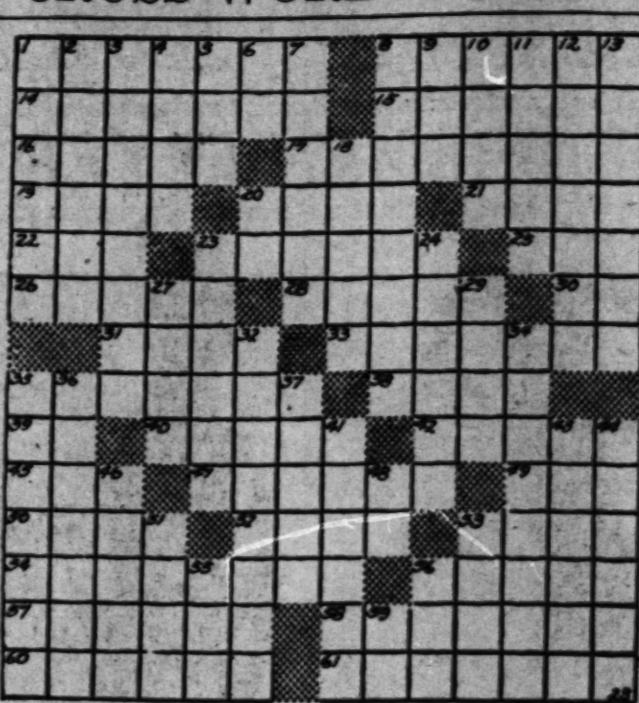

When sending a small coin through the mail, attach it to the note paper with a narrow strip of adhesive tape. This will hold the coin firmly until it arrives at its destination.

Housekeeping Hints. Keep a cork on the end of the crocheting needle when not in use and the needle will not work through the basket and become broken or bent.

A little powdered borax shaken into the stockings will relieve burnings of the feet and also act as a deodorant.

Flowers that keep much better in all the leaves that would be under water in a vase are stripped from the stems before arranging.

A lump oforris root in the boiler on wash day will give a lovely fragrant odor to the clothes, lasting even after they are ironed.

Woolens hung on the line dripping wet are not so apt to shrink as those wrung out before drying.

A thin coat of colorless varnish will add life to the straw matting at the same time giving it a pleasing gloss.

For the casual guest, who stays for lunch or dinner only, a thoughtful manufacturer has provided tiny cakes of perfumed soap in various colors and perfumes. They come 25 to a box.

A hand-operated tool has been invented for cutting glass tubing without breaking.

Smart Shoe Shade. Patou red in more evening slippers is a striking exotic color that will provide a vivid accent to a white and black evening ensemble. Trimming and heels are of gold in modernistic design.

To Achieve Slender Wrists

By Anne Jordan

HAVEN'T you seen many women whose wrists are so fat that they wrinkle down over the hands like the front of a Park House roll? Every time I see such wrists, I simply yearn to step up to the possessor, and tell her how to thin them down. Since I can't do that, I'm going to get "way off" and write all these ladies a letter about how to trim down the surplus flesh that lingers above their hands.

The muscles that control the thumb are hidden in your wrist. If you will wiggle your thumb, you will see these muscles move about. Therefore, if your wrists are too fat, these thumb muscles are the ones that have become sluggish. So to start tapering down the wrists take this following exercise:

Stretch the hand out, with every finger as stiff as you can. The thumb should pull as tight as you can make it. Then revolve the thumb, round and round. As soon as you master this with one hand, try it with two hands at once. Keep your thumbs going round and round for 10 minutes—if you can stand it that long. If you have to relax, stop for a moment. After 10 minutes of this thumb circling, try that hula-hula movement of the hands that was given a few weeks ago. Do this for five minutes each day, then rest your arms for 10 minutes. Do this for five minutes each day, then rest your arms for 10 minutes. Do this for five minutes each day, then rest your arms for 10 minutes.

Removing Make-Up the Important Thing. If keeping a School-girl Complexion is your aim. Use this treatment of famous beauty pills to cleanse correctly.

Whether you use rouge and powder or not—you can never have a truly charming complexion if nature's beauty is misused. Natural beauty may be enhanced by make-up—but without natural loveliness cosmetics cannot fail to seem artificial.

One of the greatest complexion errors that can be made is in attempting to cleanse the skin thoroughly without using the right soap. Only a true beauty soap, made of the oils of olive and palm—such as Palmolive—will do. The day's massage the rich, soft skin with your two hands. Rub the face, then the neck, then the chest, then the arms, then the legs. Add just a touch of good cold cream to prevent dryness, that's all.

Be sure you use Palmolive Soap everywhere. The Palmolive Soap Company, Chicago, Ill.

SECOND—Nourish the Skin. With Melba Tissue Cream. Stimulates the skin, keeps it soft and supple, and gives it a healthy glow.

THIRD—Finish the Skin. With Melba Vanishing Cream. Removes the last traces of make-up, leaving the skin smooth and clear.

This Easy Melba Technique! JUST dip your finger into a jar of Melba Skin Cleanser. See how quickly it melts! The heat of your face, or neck, causes it to dissolve right into the pores and flush them of impurities. It takes care of the first layer of your skin—and is the first step to beauty.

Then dip into the marvellously fine textured Melba Tissue Cream! Stroke it gently into your skin, always using light, firm, upward motions. Its purpose is to aid the second layer of your skin—where the blood vessels are. It stirs a sluggish circulation; makes your skin delicately, beautifully pink. It is the second step to beauty.

Now—instead of sloppy ice—use Melba Vanishing Cream. It really seems icy; it is so very cooling. It helps close the pores and remove all trace of oily skin.

If your favorite drug or department store can't supply the 3 fine Melba Creams, send 25c (stamp or coin) for samples and the Booklet: "The Melba Technique—the Way to Charm."

STREET CAR BOARD VOTES TO APPROVE ARBITRATION PLAN

Directors Ratify Tentative Agreement Reached in Conference at Mayor's Office Yesterday.

CONTRACT TO STAY IN FOR TIME BEING

Any Increase Granted Will Not Be Retroactive, Company Says — Statement
Hints at Higher Fares.

The St. Louis Public Service Co., through the Executive Committee of its directorate, today approved the agreement made by two of the company's officers, at the conference in the Mayor's office yesterday, to ask the State Public Service Commission to arbitrate its wage difference with its motormen and conductors. The purpose of the agreement is to avert the street car strike, which was threatened to begin June 3.

St. Basil's Clarke, executive vice president of the company, said a written notice of the company's action would be sent to the Street Car Men's Union. When the union, in writing, accepts the agreement, the contract between the company and the union will be reinstated automatically, he said, subject to the commission's consent to act as arbitrator. The company recently gave notice of cancellation of the contract June 2, and of its purpose to reduce wages at that time by 8.42 per cent, whereas the men had demanded wage increases.

Clarke said also that any increase in wages which the commission might suggest would not be retroactive, and that money would not be impounded by the company to pay such increases from June 2 of any other date before the arbitration is concluded. It was suggested yesterday, he said, that the amount of the proposed decrease should be impounded, and paid to the men if the commission disallowed the decrease. But the company was unwilling to accept even a contingent cut in pay, and the final agreement, Clarke said, contained nothing about impounding money.

In a formal statement announcing the action of the Executive Committee, it was declared that the company would not "assume the position of dictating to the public what amount of wages the public should pay to street car employees through referees."

The agreement, as set forth by the company's statement, provided that the new contract, to supersede the existing one, be submitted to the Public Service Commission, and that the union, the city and the company should join in asking for the arbitration, and should be bound by the result.

Mayor Miller today sent to the Public Service Commission an inquiry whether it would, on request of the parties to the controversy, undertake the task of arbitration. He asked for an early reply. The communication, which was prepared by City Counselor Marchant, stated that the city did not desire to "take any action that will deprive anyone of a living wage," and that it did not wish to "interfere with any utility earning a fair and reasonable return on a fair and reasonable valuation of its properties."

The company's request for a straight eight-cent fare, in place of the present seven and one-half-cent token arrangement, is before the commission, and will probably be passed upon before the arbitration hearings are begun.

It is expected that the commission will consent to act as arbitrator. Members of the commission said yesterday they could make no definite commitment until they received the formal request, but they indicated they would not try to sidestep any responsibility within the scope of their official duty.

Ratification of yesterday's agreement by the union members is not necessary, as the local union recently voted, almost unanimously, to empower its officers to declare a strike at their discretion. This is held, also gave them full power to make concessions to avoid a strike.

The union is asking for wage increases from the range of 56 to 67 cents an hour, to the range of 55 to 72 cents, the pay to be reached by one year's work instead of three years as now proposed. They also ask for improved working conditions, a minimum of two hours' pay for overtime men performing work, and time and one-half instead of time and one-fourth for overtime.
